Starr Pacing NFL Passers

Meredith Second; Kelly Leads the Ground Gainers

NEW YORK (AP)—Bart Starr of the Green Bay Packers leads the National Football League passers with 57 completions in 88 attempts for 845 yards and six touchdowns, official NFL statistics show today.

Don Meredith of Dallas is second with 34 completions in 68 attempts for 695 yards and nine touchdowns.

Leroy Kelly, who has taken over for the retired Jimmy Brown as Cleveland fullback, also replaced Brown as the league's leading rusher. He gained 134 yards against New York last Sunday and now has 352 yards and four touchdowns in three games.

Bobby Mitchell of Washington has caught 21 passes for 412 yards and four touchdowns to lead pass receivers.

Moe Recalls His Boyhood In Poland

ager Hank Bauer called on Drabowsky to pitch out of a situation that saw the Dodgers trailing 4-1, the bases loaded and only one out.

Drabowsky, who had the best year of his 11-year career this season with a 6-0 record and a 2.81 earned run average, struck out Wes Parker but walked Jim Gilliam on a 3-2 pitch, forcing in a run. He went to a 3-2 count on John Roseboro, too, but got the Dodger catcher to foul out.

The Dodgers didn't know it then, but all they got the rest of the way was a single by Willie Davis in the seventh inning.

Ties Record

They also got strikes — enough in the fourth and fifth innings to enable Drabowsky to tie the record of six straight out-strikeouts set by Hod Eller of Cincinnati against the Chicago White Sox in 1919 and enough in the 6-2-3 innings to enable him to break the mark for strikeouts by a relief pitcher set by Jess Barnes of the New York Giants against the New York Yankees in 1921. Barnes fanned 10.

"It's about time I got on the right side of a record," Drabowsky laughed. He referred to the fact that he gave up Stan Musial's 3,000th hit, allowed the winning hit in Early Wynn's 3,000th victory and once hit four batters in one game.

When he isn't running into negative records, or positive ones, or just pitching routinely, Drabowsky is a stock broker through a firm in Chicago.

Majoring in Economics at Trinity College but have to write a thesis to get my bachelor's degree," he explained.

Wood to Start At Halfback For Badgers

MADISON, W. S. (AP) — Coach Milt Bruhn, seeking to install Kim Wood at the starting right halfback slot Wednesday to enable him to play this weekend's football game against the Nebraska Cornhuskers.

Wood, a 6-foot, 220-pound junior, will join fullback Wayne Todd and left half Lynn Buss, both sophomores, in the Badger running game.

Another personnel change on the offensive team found right guard Phil Brockett, a 6-foot-2-inch, 201-pound junior, on the starting eleven in place of senior guard Dick La Croix. La Croix started at guard in Wisconsin's 7-0 victory over Iowa Wednesday that included all-out blocking and tackling for 10 minutes in a special goal-line drill. He said Thursday's practice would begin the tapering off process for the game with the Cornhuskers.

So far this season, after two games, Jerry has carried 14 times for 43 yards and an average of 3.1 per try. Jerry is a senior.

Ken Gatzke is a junior and has been hampered in the first two games because of an ankle injury suffered in a pre-season scrimmage.

Roberts had been counting on Ken as a starter at a tackle position until he was sidelined by the injury. However, Ken is expected to be ready for full-time duty by this weekend.

Packers' Jeter Has Big Task

Sunday "I was all set to make an interception when I noticed it was too high. So I had to leap one-handed," Bob said. He knocked it down with his left hand.

The Packers have made six interceptions thus far but three were accomplished by the linebackers (Dave Robinson two and Lee Roy Caffey one) and I guess we're getting a little hungry back there."

Tom Brown has two interceptions and Jeter one — a 46-yard steal in front of Berry in the opener, for a touchdown.

Parks is backed up by Kay 332 passing for 745 total yards. Defensively, the Chuters have given up only 164 yards rushing and 280 passing for 444 total yards. Xavier is second with 491 yards allowed.

Must Stop Koop

St. John will be faced with the task of stopping John Koop, of Pennings, the second-best rusher in the conference. Koop has carried the ball a league-leading 70 times in three games for 305 yards. Only Sharkey with his 420 yards gained in 46 carries has a better mark. "Oscar" Schuler of St. John climbed to third in rushing and has 230 yards in 48 tries.

Unbeaten Lourdes faces what will probably be its biggest test from here on in. Premontre has come on strong with a pair of victories and the Cadets have climbed to third defensively. Premontre has allowed only 197 yards rushing to foes.

1. What was considered "the most strategic stronghold in America" at the time of the American Revolutionary War? 2. What is the origin of the nickname, "sawbuck," as applied to a U. S. ten-dollar currency note? 3. What is the origin of the expression, "Spare the rod, and spoil the child?"

ANSWERS

1. West Point, on the Hudson River. 2. From the Roman numeral "X," which resembles a sawbuck or sawhorse. 3. Probably a passage in the Bible. In the 13th Chapter of Proverbs appears the passage: "He that spareth the rod hateth his son."

What a stomach specialist says about grouchy stomach

A little white penny tablet fights grouchy stomach faster than even prescription-type antacids costing five times as much. This startling fact has been confirmed by scientific tests at a famous medical center. The tablet?

Today's TUMS®. You may think of TUMS as a mere candy mint. But stomach specialists know different. TUMS beat all leading brands tested, even prescription-type brands. It's the medicine for grouchy stomach. TUMS.

Drysdale Was Victim Of Defeat in Opening Series Game Last Year

By BOB MYERS
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Don Drysdale, in relief, struck out 11 Dodgers, allowing only one hit in 6 2-3 innings. Alston said his memory of the game of the World Series by the Baltimore Orioles, and today Drysdale was rather dim. Sandy Koufax goes to the mound for the Los Angeles Dodgers since he hadn't seen him since his Chicago Cub days years ago.

"He pitched strong as a young man and he looked like he threw as good as ever and had better control," Alston observed. "You've got to give credit to Moe and the guys that hit the manager, Walter Alston, home runs. There's nothing you can do about it."

Drysdale related that the Robinson boys hit high fast balls and he blamed himself. "I just didn't put the ball where I wanted to. They're good hitters. Any good pitcher is in seven games."

Baltimore Power
The Dodgers committed four errors in those first two games would not revise his pitching in 1965, three of them in the second. Claude Osteen goes at on contest, but Wednesday in Baltimore Saturday in the open- home runs. There's nothing you can do about it."

Home runs by Frank and Brooks Robinson rocked Drysdale for three runs in the first inning.

And the Dodger hitting, with only a couple of exceptions, the hardly frightened the Baltimore defense.

Jimmy Lefebvre homered in the second with no one on, and the other Dodger run was, and he came on three straight walks, a strikeout and a fourth walk that forced in Lou Johnson.

They'll Do It Every Time

Vikes Invade Cornell Field

them, the Vikes will not forego their excursion to Mount Vernon. In the brief but already colorful regime of Coach Ron Roberts, the Vikings have won seven of 10 games and have been definitely outplayed only once in that span, which covers 14 seasons.

Lawrence has an 8-point defensive edge on Cornell having allowed only 105 points per game, to 135 for the Rams. However, in yardage, Cornell has the edge — having given up an average of 224, to 242 for Lawrence. In average yardage gained per game, the Rams have achieved a margin of 366 to 288.5 over the Vikes.

Cornell, which has beaten Grinnell (27-23) and Monmouth (26-14), has a better offensive average than the Vikes—26.5 to 22.5.

However, the Lawrence offense, spearheaded by triple threat Chuck McKee, is enough to insure an exhausting after-noon for any defense. In two games, McKee has rushed for 176 yards and has passed for another 292. The slick junior is averaging four yards per carry and 20.9 yards per completion. Or, punts, McKee is averaging 38.6 yards.

Along with quarterback McKee in the starting backfield will be Gerry Gatzke at fullback and two of these three half-backs: Gary Hietpas, Mike Andrews and Steve Figi. Hietpas started the opener but was held out of the starting offensive lineup last week because of a broken bone in a finger.

Hietpas, however, was a defensive regular and saw some offensive duty as well. He ranks third in scoring (with 10 points) behind McKee (20) and end Dave Crowell (14).

Extra Passing Threat
Figi, who is matching Gatzke's rushing pace (3.1 yards per try) gives the Vikes an extra passing threat. Andrews, one of the few sophomores to break into the junior-accented lineup, started last Saturday and came through in good style.

Dick Witte has come along well in relief on Gatzke, and he is second in rushing with a 70-yard total.

Crowell is way out front in pass receiving, with seven catches for 202 yards. Rod Croker, their running threats Clark—with three receptions—is are DOuane Schultz (an all-Conference choice two years ago), more than one.

Nothing is certain in football, but the Vikes can almost assuredly expect an aerial barrage from Cornell. The Rams (Clark has been the Ram coach, put the ball in the air 46 times in their win over Grinnell. Skip

Newell Named 49er Publicist Offers Reasons Player of Week For Poor Mark

Madison LaFollette Star Scores 4 TDs In 40-20 Triumph

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Jay Newell of Madison La Follette, the top scorer in the tough Big Eight Conference, was named Associated Press high school Football "Player of the Week" Wednesday.

Newell was chosen in the balloting by Wisconsin sports writers for his four touchdown performance against Madison West. The 5-foot-9, 175 pound senior raced 74, 3, and 46 yards for touchdowns and added another on a nine-yard pass.

The performance gave unbeaten La Follette a 40-20 victory.

Had Excellent Night
"He had an excellent night," said Otto Breitenbach, La Follette coach. "He contributed greatly to the victory."

Newell, a halfback, scored five touchdowns in La Follette's opener with Janesville. Breitenbach called him "a fine lad and a fine football player" who someday could be a college halfback.

"He is a quiet but inspirational kind of boy who is as hard a worker as we have on the squad and a good student," said the coach.

Newell can also play defense, though he is used only sparingly at cornerback.

"If we had to go with our best defensive unit, we'd have to go with him on it," said the coach.

Others nominated for this week's award include: Dan Pregont of Schofield, Gary Losse of Neenah, Steve Pelot of Wisconsin Rapids Assumption Jay O'Connor of Oshkosh Lourdes.

Eikleberry completed 16 of 34, and Pete Irvine five of 12. The Rams pulled out a 4-point decision in the final 32 seconds of play.

The Ram receivers include ends Lon Mahews (6 feet tall), Darryle Varda (6-2) and Joe Campanelli (6-1) and flanker Joe Croker. Their running threats are DOuane Schultz (an all-Conference choice two years ago), Dan Stibolt and Gary Knutson.

Lawrence holds an all-time but the Vikes can almost assuredly expect an aerial barrage from Cornell. The Rams (Clark has been the Ram coach, put the ball in the air 46 times in their win over Grinnell. Skip

Cites Poor Blocking, Lack of Protection For Brodie's Passing

Post-Crescent News Service
GREEN BAY — What, pray tell, is the matter with the 49ers?

They were the scoringest team in the league in 1965... and some of us "experts" figured them for a high place in the Western Division this year.

It's early, of course, and the 49ers are certain to make a comeback but they didn't exactly shine in the first three games, winning none, losing two and tying one (20-20 with the Vikings). They lost to the Colts 36-14 and the Rams 34-3.

George McFadden, a straight with his punting. He's been thinker who publicizes the 49ers, getting off those easy to return led off with a remarkable line drives. We've had 11 punts answer to paragraph 1: "We're returned on us for 199 yards, not operating as well as we were last year."

He did chuckle a bit at his facetious utterance and then added: "Actually, we have fallen off in just a couple of areas of play have been many fumbles and — our running game and our protection for the passer."

Why, George, why? Nobody can answer that, naturally, but the Packers will find out for themselves when they meet the 49ers in Kezar Stadium Sunday afternoon.

Not Blocking Well
The implication is that the 49ers are not blocking as well as they have in 1965 when they met the Packers.

fullback Ken Willard, John David Crow and Gary Lewis were averaging over four yards the right time — at least as far a crack and John Brodie was as the 49er gate is concerned, throwing from a rocking chair. "We're meeting the Raiders (at Willard is averaging barely nearby Oakland) headon for the two yards a trip and against the Rams last Friday night he was having a good advance and the benched after two carries. Lew-attendance might reach 36,000." is isn't much better off but McFadden said.

McFadden said that "our best running is coming from Crow seats, which will provide the He's been a ball of fire with Packers with a look at their four and a half yards a carry" first non-sellout crowd this year.

McFadden cited a figure that The Raiders will host the Miami might show some of Brodie's Dolphins.

NOTES and NOTIONS

Last week's 30-right, 8-wrong the nod.

record 1,789 raises the season's standard to 109-50 (with three ties) for a 77.4 per cent pace. Making up for the FRVC troubles (missing three of five) was a rare, 7-for-7 showing in the NFL.

Packers over 49ers — Though any team in the Western Division is capable of beating the leaders, it isn't apt to happen in this instance. The Bay's offensive unit is due to re-establish its ground game and give the defense a little more breathing room.

Nebraska over Wisconsin — All signs point to a far closer game than last year's debacle, but the Cornhusker manpower bids far to wear the UW down.

Lawrence over Cornell — The Vikings can't afford any kind of a let-down against another unbeaten foe, but the confidence acquired in their clutch comeback performance against St. Olaf will stand them in good stead this week.

Appleton over Fond du Lac — There's plenty of danger here for the Terrors, since Fondy features the pass-accented type of attack used by Sheboygan North, the only AHS conqueror to date. On the assumption, the Terrors will get their offense untracked this week, they rate makers have slightly the better potential.

Clintonville over Two Rivers — Another virtual toss-up here, but the nod goes to the Truckers on the strength of their play through most of the Shawano game.

St. Mary over Springs — This is the Zephyrs' best chance to post a league victory, and their passing attack appears capable of leading the way.

Little Nine Conference — Denmark over Freedom, Winnebago over Brillon, Oshkosh over Sheboygan, Waubesa over Horonville, Reedsville over Hill, but they appear to have the best determination it takes to bounce back from a defeat.

Neenah over Menasha — Chances for one of those classic upsets in the Twin Cities series appear pretty dim. The Jays won't give away a third in the "effort" department, but they don't have the artillery to cope with the Rockers.

Kaukauna over Shawano — After their impressive showing against New London, the Ghosts appear ready to spoil the Indians' perfect M-E record.

St. John over Pennings — The Squires can't match either the attack or the defensive prowess the Chubbers have demonstrated.

Kimberly over New London — It looks as if a close, defensive game is in the offing, and in that phase of play the Paper-Lourdes.

Other NFL games — Cleveland over Pittsburgh, Washington over Atlanta, Baltimore over Chicago, Los Angeles over Detroit, St. Louis over New York, Dallas over Cleveland.

Other FRVC games — Oshkosh over Manitowish, Preble over East, North over Southwest, West over South.

Other MC games — Beloit over Carleton, Grinnell over Knox, Ripon over Monmouth, St. Olaf over Coe.

Other games — Chilton over Sheboygan Falls, West De Pere over Souduel, Seymour over Algoma, Fremont over the Paper-Lourdes.

County Seeks Right to Fight Site Selection

Outagamie Counsel Says Information on Campus Misleading

Outagamie County was misled into spending money for land options and information for site selection of a new University of Wisconsin campus, according to an argument filed Wednesday with Circuit Judge Edwin Wilkie by County Corporation Counsel A. W. Ponath.

Ponath, in a written brief, said the county should be permitted to sue with several private taxpayers seeking to stop the expenditure of funds for planning and developing the proposed campus northeast of Green Bay. The Green Bay site, in Brown County, was chosen by the committee over competing locations near Appleton.

Outagamie County is seeking the lawsuit over the protests of the attorney general who says taxpayers may sue the state, but the county cannot join them because it is a subdivision of the state and has no outright financial interest in the campus site.

In the brief, Ponath said, "Outagamie County is entitled to have its rights determined and adjudicated with respect to moneys which it was misled into spending. All of the expenditures were rendered futile by the illegal action of the members of the site selection committee in their secret meetings."

The county has contended that the committee met secretly and changed the standards to be Theda Clark Memorial Hospital, used in selecting a campus site.

Marion Man Is Critical After Mishap

MARION — Manfred Krueger, 45, route 1, was rushed to Theda Clark Memorial Hospital, Neenah, after being critically injured in a one-car accident on a private road near here Wednesday afternoon.

Waupaca County authorities are not clear on the cause of the accident and have not been able to question the injured man.

Authorities said Krueger was traveling down Circle J Road three-eighths of a mile southwest of here about 4 p.m. Wednesday when his car went across the dirt road up a small embankment through a wire fence breaking off a post, back down into a musto and what my family gully and crashed into a boulder.

7 Vehicles Crash on Smog-Covered Road

OSHKOSH — Smog has been jaw and ear cuts; Verna McBlair for a seven vehicle pileup at 4:10 a.m. today six miles west of Winchester, on U.S. 110 which hospitalized three persons with minor injuries.

Police said the thick haze of smoke and fog had gathered at the Re: River bridge and spread out for about a quarter mile. The accident involved five vehicles, a bus and one car, all of which were traveling east.

The first accident occurred when a truck driven by Elroy Borchardt, 52, Wausau, slowed as it entered the haze, when it was struck in the rear shoulder by a truck driven by Merle D. Paine, 22, Fond du Lac, which in turn was struck in the rear by a truck driven by Arnold L. Erickson, 24, Amherst Junction.

Before police could get the debris cleared from the first pileup a truck driven by Stanley Pecora, 50, Amherst Junction, was struck by a Greyhound bus driven by William Schoenwalder, 56, Stevens Point.

Rural Manitowoc Woman Kills Grandson, Self

MANITOWOC (AP)—Manitowoc County Sheriff Edward McConnell said today a rural Manitowoc woman and her grandson were found dead of gunshot wounds in her home early this morning under circumstances indicating she shot the boy, then turned the gun on herself.

The sheriff identified the victim as Mrs. Gus Thoke, 69, route 1, Manitowoc, and Jeffrey Huletz, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Huletz of Manitowoc. Authorities said the Huletzs had separated.

Dr. Theodore Teitgen, county coroner, said a note found in the home expressed the grandmother's concern that the boy was not leading a normal life because of the separation of his parents.

Sheriff McConnell said the bodies were found some time after 12:15 a.m. by Mrs. Thoke's husband, Gus, about 69. The boy apparently was shot with a small calibre revolver as he slept. He had been living with his mother but had stayed at his grandmother's home since last Friday.

Greenville Club Purchases New Park Equipment

GREENVILLE—New swings and slides have been purchased for the community park it was announced at the October Athletic and Civic Club meeting.

A businessmen's committee was appointed by the president, James Wunderlich, to purchase the equipment. Vernon Plamann, chairman, was aided by Dr. T. L. Knapstein, Alois Griesbach, Edward Ashauer, Ernest Wieckert, Norbert Sigl, Victor Tennie, Louis Rudloff, Harold Griesbach, Donald Griesbach, Hubert Berg, Kenneth McLellan, Peter Erickson, John Cooper, Gordon Spaulding, Orville Polzin, Elmer Tilley, Eugene Lautenschlager, Arnold Schroeder and Jerald Cerney.

The Halloween party will be at the Silver Dome hall Oct. 31 for the children of the community. In charge are William Kirk, Norman Julius, Joseph Simon, Earl Pingel and Lloyd Schroeder.

Volunteers Named To Work for Knowles

Walter H. Kalata, Outagamie County coordinator for Gov. Warren Knowles, has named three volunteer GOP workers to his committee to work for Knowles' re-election.

George J. Greisch, Appleton, is urban chairman and Phil Schiela, Dale, is rural chairman. Barbara Rohloff, Appleton, is Knowles Girls chairman.

Darboy Holy Name to Hear Lawrence Dean

A country style chicken dinner will be served at 8 p.m. by members of the St. Anne Altar Society.

Little Chute Seeks Hike of Water Rates

Village Wants to Construct Storage Tower in Spring

LITTLE CHUTE — The village board Tuesday night authorized the finance committee to seek permission from the State Public Service Commission to increase village water rates.

The increase would permit the village to begin construction of a new storage tower next spring.

Final payment of $12,788 was made to Distributors Inc., Green Bay, for construction of the new village garage. The chief of police and a patrolman of his choice were authorized to attend the attorney general's conference on law enforcement at Madison Oct. 12 and 13.

A request from property owners living at the northwest corner of Madison and Main streets and on the north side of Main Street from Madison to Monroe streets to have property rezoned from residential to business district was denied by a 5-2 secret vote of the board.

Although the area would be contiguous to the existing business district, board members hesitated to authorize a zoning change when it was explained that a third service station was being contemplated for the Madison and Main Street intersection.

An ordinance was adopted allowing the Kaukauna Electric and Water Department to construct a high voltage line tower at the end of Buchanan Street, to carry power lines across the Fox River to a new substation in Combined Locks.

Anti-Pollution Leader Answers Lucey's Charges

Gubernatorial Candidate Says Appointee Lacks Credentials

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — Freeman Holmer, Wisconsin's new commandant in the war on pollution, said Tuesday that while he may lack credentials as an expert in the field of antipollution activities he can lead the state's professional staff and those it will acquire for the battle.

Holmer answered criticisms of his appointment made by Lt. Gov. Patrick Lucey, a Democrat, who said earlier that Holmer is a good administrator but lacks the experience necessary to lead the battle.

Holmer, said Lucey, is "totally unfamiliar with the pollution problems of the state, has no experience in pollution, and comes from a Republican administration of a state that has done nothing in the field of pollution."

Finance Administrator
Holmer is currently director of the Department of Finance and Administration of the state of Oregon, which currently has a Republican governor.

The new head of the department of resource development told a press conference called after two days in the state, studying Wisconsin's new water laws that he feels that the post of head of the anti-pollution agency can be handled by a Green Bay project was not in man whose experience is chiefly administrative.

He realizes that he lacks some expert knowledge in the field of anti-pollution action. Holmer said. But the state staff has in the past been shown to be expert, and "several dozen" top level pollution experts will be hired to supplement the state efforts in the agency, Holmer said.

Coordination Important
An expert knowledge of governmental administration is important to coordinate these efforts, he said.

Holmer replied to Lucey's charges by saying that he hopes to be able to work with the candidate if Lucey wins the gubernatorial election Nov. 8.

"Obviously I would not want to work in a place where I was not wanted," he said. "but I would hope that if my work is satisfactory to the board (of Congress next year an additional resource development) it would also be to the governor of the state."

Holmer said that Oregon has done much work in the field of anti-pollution activities since 1937, and that more is expected in the next session of its legislature.

He explained that his decision to start work in Wisconsin on Nov. 9 was not tied to the date of the general election, but to the preparation of the Oregon state budget, for which he is responsible in his present post.

Holmer outlined the immediate steps for action that must be taken by the agency to start the war against pollution.

The first responsibility of the agency, he said, will be to determine the boundaries and

Nelson Asks For Pollution Examination

Army Engineers Will Dump Dredgings Back Into Lake

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., urged federal pollution control authorities Wednesday to make certain that an Army engineer channel dredging project in Green Bay will not intensify water pollution problems.

In a letter to James Quigley, commissioner of the Federal Water Pollution Control Administration, Nelson said the agency can be handled by a Green Bay project was not in man whose experience is chiefly administrative.

Lakes dredging projects being revised to prevent dumping of polluted dredged materials back into the lakes.

He asked Quigley to take another look and advise the Army Engineers whether their plans to dump dredged materials from the Green Bay and Fox River channel some 15 miles out into Green Bay would increase pollution or serve as a possible future source of pollution.

Nelson said the Army engineers contended the pollution control agency had cleared the Green Bay project on grounds that the material to be dumped into deep water will be from the outer harbor and will not be polluted.

If a review of the plan results in a change in opinion, Nelson said he would ask the Army Engineers to seek from Congress next year an additional $580,000 estimated to be needed to dump at least part of the dredged material on a land spoil disposal area acceptable to Green Bay, Wis.

British Archbishop Denies Remark About Evangelist Graham

LONDON (AP) — The archbishop of Canterbury has denied saying that evangelist Billy Graham is not what the church needs.

Dr. Michael Ramsey, spiritual leader of the Church of England, wrote the Times of London in an effort to quiet controversy aroused by remarks attributed to him Sept. 26 in Vancouver.

Dr. Ramsey was quoted as saying although Graham's recent crusade in England won some converts, it "made no significant changes in basic English religious habits. The Billy Graham type of evangelism is not the kind we need in these trying times. We need an intellectual, thoughtful approach — not bursts of emotionalism."

"I never spoke of emotionalism in connection with Dr. Graham's crusade," Dr. Ramsey wrote. "as I know that Dr. Graham did not make a particularly emotional appeal."

Hemisphere Conference 'Sacred Cow'

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — Diplomats in Buenos Aires say most of the American governments realize the proposed conference of the hemisphere's presidents promises to achieve little. But, as one puts it, "it's become a sacred cow and nobody wants to be the first to kill it."

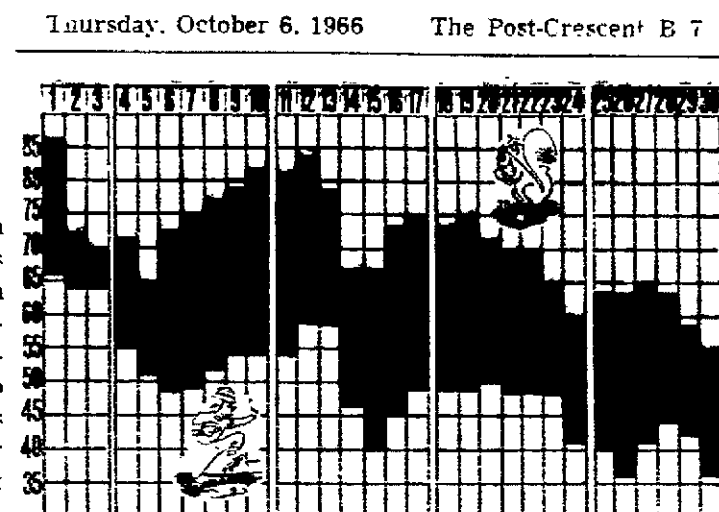

The presidential conference was first proposed last May by Argentine President Arturo Illia. The proposal gained momentum when President Johnson endorsed it a few weeks later. Then Illia was overthrown by the Argentine military, and Gen. Juan Carlos Onganía replaced him.

Thus far there has been little agreement on time, place or agenda for the conference. Buenos Aires, Punta Del Este, Uruguay; Vina Del Mar, Chile; Lima, Peru, and San Jose, Costa Rica, all have been suggested as sites. The current word is Mexico City next March.

There is general agreement the presidents would deal mainly with top-level economic matters to give a push to lagging plans for Latin-American development and economic integration.

Hamm's is here in the Tapper® keg 2¼ gallons of Hamm's great draft beer "on tap" in your refrigerator.

Until now, you've been able to enjoy genuine Hamm's draft beer on tap only in taverns. Or from special-order brewery kegs requiring special handling.

But today—through a remarkable development in beer packaging—you can draw a Hamm's draft beer at home as easily as you can open a can or bottle.

This new development is the first draft beer dispenser designed specifically for home use. A bantam beer barrel with the nickname "Tapper."

Here are some cold facts about the Hamm's Tapper, and how it can deliver the same refreshing glassful your bartender draws at your favorite tavern.

Hamm's and aluminum a friendly combination.

The Tapper is the spectacular achievement of the Reynolds Metals Company. It's made of pure aluminum—the metal that is particularly friendly to beer flavor.

Rustproof aluminum can't tarnish the delicate flavor of Hamm's draft beer. Pure aluminum protects all that famous sky blue waters freshness.

Now draw yourself some freshness from your refrigerator.

This is where the Hamm's Tapper makes itself completely at home. In your refrigerator. It was designed for it. You just slide the keg onto a shelf that you can reach without stooping. Then get ready to enjoy beer at its best.

The built-in spigot on the receiving end is, without a doubt, the world's simplest beer tap. No pumps. Nothing complicated. Just pull the tap knob, and a self-contained pressure system fills your glass and tops it with a perfect head.

Ideal for special occasions.

Small enough to fit under one arm, yet big enough to hold a full case of beer—Hamm's Tapper is a good traveler and an instant success at parties and outings.

The special carton that it comes in carries like a picnic hamper to go along with the fun. Just open it up and start drawing.

You'd never guess it by the size, but there are 2¼ gallons in there. Equal to a full case of beer. Enough to see a group of you through a patio party or a night of cards.

Now that you know the facts don't miss the opportunity.

This beer—genuine Hamm's draft—has a unique smoothness and a special freshness that is Hamm's and Hamm's alone.

You owe it to yourself to taste it now. From draft beer's first home dispenser—the all-aluminum Tapper.

Hamm's Tapper packs a whole sky blue waters world of freshness into about one square foot of space in your refrigerator.

Keep that space reserved for beer at its best.

Genuine Hamm's draft beer in the Tapper keg. Now available wherever you buy beer.

St. Elizabeth Country Fair Ready to Open

Thursday, October 6, 1966 The Post-Crescent C 1

The leaves have turned from green to yellow and red and this season, as women of the Fox Cities flock to St. Elizabeth Hospital Auxiliary's Country Fair, they'll have a chance to see what the countryside offers in glowing Wisconsin color. The event, the second, is planned Oct. 13 at the Darby Club. The change of locale was arranged so that those who want to enjoy the country style chicken dinner may be accommodated with dispatch. Serving will be from 11 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. and from 5 p.m. to 7:30 p.m.

Auxiliary members, seasoned during the first Country

Fair effort a year ago, laugh that they've learned a great deal. One of the lessons is that it takes a lot of room for the kind of crowd that attends an event such as theirs. Individually, they've also become more polished with the items that have emerged from their workshops. Their crafts have a more professional look — simply the result of experience and the search for better and easier ways to do things.

Will Sketch One of the highlights of this year's fair will be the appearance of Brother Cosmas Wambach, S.D.S., a Salvatorian and head of the art department at the Salvatorian Center, New Holstein. Brother Cosmas will do charcoal drawings at the fair. He has sketched at the Wisconsin State Fair, Elkhart Lake Road America Races, bazaars and picnics.

The Auxiliary, which has been preparing for the Fair almost since the last one closed its doors, will again feature a number of 'favorite' booths. Among them will be the bakery-bake sale, where time-tested recipes will provide a variety of home-baked breads, cakes, pies and cookies. Also on the homemade list is home canned goods, featuring jams, jellies, and pickles.

A candy booth will offer chocolate centers, French mint fudge, divinity fudge, English toffee, caramels, penuche, peanut brittle, spiced pecans and fried oysters. Last year the women provided 175 pounds and didn't have enough. This year there'll be more.

Like New The resale shop will also be important, with glassware, books, toys, small appliances, ashtrays, games and puzzles. Toys will also be offered at the Kiddy Korner, which will feature a fish pond, balloons, cotton candy and games. For gifts there will be aprons, hats, purses, handkerchiefs, jewelry, toys, and, for very young children, the Granny Corner has soft and pretty quilts, pillows, layettes, decorated leotards, bibs, bathtub toys, baby doll pajamas, robes, carriage robes and organdy pinafores.

Mrs. Raymond Dohr, who has worked with Mrs. Albert St. Pierre, and about six others, laughs that the women have probably earned the Auxiliary about 20 cents an hour for their effort. All together, though, they agree, it adds up. The quilts are particularly lovely. Dacron filled, and of a size big enough for a crib.

Many Items Also of interest to autumn shoppers that day will be the boutique booth, full of "a number of things" to pique the interest of shoppers.

During the evening the Auxiliary has planned an auction to wind up the day. This part of the fair is scheduled for 8:30 p.m.

Mrs. Cletus Dietzler and Mrs. Joseph Gossens are co-chairmen of the fair this year.

Mrs. Albert St. Pierre and Mrs. Raymond Dohr put the last stitches in the Granny Corner booth planned for St. Elizabeth Hospital Auxiliary's Country Fair Oct. 13. They and several other women have spent the spring and summer making about 20 quilts for infant cribs. Most are cotton sateen with Dacron backs, are washable and do not wrinkle. They've learned a lot since the first fair, last year, they say.

Items That Look Like new and will serve almost the same way will be featured in the Fair's Resale Booth. Above, at the home of Mrs. Walter VandenBoom in Kimberly, she and Mrs. Gordon F. Gehrman take a final check. Among sale items are 26 dolls which have been washed and cleaned and dressed by Mrs. Van den Boom's grandchildren. On the table are a chrome cocktail set, books, ashtrays and decorative containers. At right is Brother Cosmas Wambach, S. D. S., who will do charcoal sketching at the Fair.

Many Members of the Auxiliary have prepared items for the Country Fair right in their own homes. Three who have worked that way, creating items for the Boutique Booth, are Mrs. Frank Leisen, Mrs. Gustave Keller, and Mrs. W. Arthur Homes. Among sale items will be Persian Embroidery, as featured on the coal scuttle, waste basket and fruit, decorative items for the holidays and a variety of homemade candies. (Post-Crescent Photos by Ralph Acker)

More International Patrolling Proposed To Limit Fighting

Senatorial Suggestion Stems From Halt of Buffer Zone Bombing

WASHINGTON (AP) — A halt in U. S. bombing aimed at restoring a neutral zone between North and South Viet Nam brought senatorial proposals today for expanded international patrols to limit the war.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk said in New York Wednesday that air attacks on the eastern part of the buffer area had been suspended. The White House previously described this as an effort to permit the International Control Commission to investigate alleged violations of the area.

In Saigon, reliable sources reported U. S. and Vietnamese planes halted bombing of a 24-mile-square area of the demilitarized zone 10 days ago so commission teams could carry out inspections.

Full Demilitarization

"We would like to see that zone fully demilitarized again," Rusk said. "If the North Vietnamese will stop using the zone for a purpose for which it was not intended."

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield was joined by Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, in applauding this action. Both have opposed escalation of the war.

The two Democrats proposed in separate interviews that control commission patrols be beefed up and their operations expanded to cover South Viet-Nam's borders with Cambodia and Laos.

"It is quite possible that if the International Control Commission were given sufficient personnel and its responsibilities strengthened that it could become effective toward limiting the war and opening the way to peace negotiations," Mansfield said.

Fulbright said he didn't want to raise any false hopes of what might be accomplished, but he favored expanding the patrols to Canada, India, Poland

Canada, India and Poland are members of the international commission set up after the 1954 Geneva Conference to police the demilitarized area between North and South Viet Nam agreed upon at that meeting.

In Ottawa it was said that patrols carried out in the 55-mile long 6 mile wide zone by two teams of two Canadian officers, two Indians and two Poles were resuming in the eastern segment.

These inspection journeys had been suspended this summer when the United States started bombing staging areas and ammunition dumps the North Vietnamese had set up in the zone to infiltrate troops into South Viet Nam.

The South Vietnamese government reportedly ordered a cessation of all bombing and military activity Sept. 27 in the area of the buffer zone east of Route 1, which is four miles west of the South China Sea.

North Viet Nam reportedly refused permission for control commission teams to inspect the Communist side of the zone.

Importance Of Religion Measured

Most Americans Feel Value of Church, Poll Says

NEW YORK (AP) — Ninety-two per cent of Americans regard religion as important, with 70 per cent of the group considering it "very important" and 22 per cent thinking it "fairly important," a national sampling indicates.

The survey, taken for the Catholic Digest magazine by the Gallup public opinion research organization, also turned up these other findings:

Concern for religion is greatest in medium-sized cities, of 25,000 to 100,000 population, where 81 per cent of the people consider it "very important."

In large metropolitan cities, of more than a million population, only 65 per cent rate religion "very important."

The figure ranges upward as the city size declines.

About 78 per cent of those over 65 canvassed consider religion very important. Only 57 per cent of the 18-24 age group consider religion of prime importance.

Racial Breakdown

More dark-skinned people 80 per cent rate religion very important than do whites, 69 per cent. More women, 80 per cent, also do so than men, 63 per cent.

In the poll, a cross-section of American adults was asked: "How important would you say religion is in your own life — very important, fairly important, or not very important?"

The findings indicated the percentage of the general population considering religion "very important," 70 per cent, was down 5 per cent from what it was in 1952.

However, the number considering religion "fairly important" was up slightly from 20 per cent 14 years ago to 22 per cent.

The percentage saying religion was "not very important" was up 2 per cent — to 7 per cent.

Father Groppi Introduces Youths Milwaukee NAACP Youth Corps Starts Militant Commando Force

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The "Commandos" of the Milwaukee Youth Council of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People will periodically "protect" the police department for "harassment" of Youth Council members. He said that because of such "harassment," the council will periodically "protect" Breier's home.

The Commandos said they would be present Friday evening during picketing of a Marquette University dance at the Eagles Club. The Youth Council has protested a Fraternal Order of Eagles policy barring membership to non-whites.

Legal Police Force

In a related action Wednesday night, the Milwaukee County Labor Council (AFL - CIO) went on record opposing the Commando force. About 225 delegates, with one dissenting vote, approved a letter to the local NAACP branch reminding the organization that Milwaukee has "a legally constituted police force in the community."

Meanwhile, a group of Cree Indians from northern Canada arrived in Milwaukee to study the "methods and procedures" used by the Youth Council to right segregation.

"The Canadian Indians are suppressed to a similar extent if not more than the American Negro," according to Murray Smith, a member of the Big Stone band of the Cree Indians. Smith and six other members of the tribe from Wabasca, Alberta, met with Father Groppi to discuss mutual problems.

The group will remain in Milwaukee several days.

Sudden Infant Deaths to be Investigated

Unknown Disease Kills Seemingly Healthy Babies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Doctors are launching an intensive new probe of the mysterious, nameless disease that kills thousands of apparently healthy babies each year.

The year-long project by a six-physician research team here is aimed at what is known as the "sudden infant death syndrome."

The condition has no medical name, but the Public Health Service rates it as one of the top killers of infants with between 10,000 and 20,000 victims annually in the United States and thousands more in other countries.

Dr. James R. Patrick, 35, chief pathologist at the District of Columbia Children's Hospital, heads the research team. He said he believes a combination of factors may make certain infants more susceptible than others to the disease.

Seek Out Viruses

Patrick's team will be looking, among other things, for any special viruses or combination of viruses that might prove fatal to infants.

Patrick said his team will start actual research work when special equipment arrives in a few weeks. The project is being conducted under a $165,300 contract with the National Institute of Child Health and Human Development, part of the National Institutes of Health.

The NIH said previous research, some of which it sponsored, has failed to turn up a definite cause of the sudden infant deaths.

But these facts are known about the condition: It is most prevalent in infants between 2 and 4 months of age, but may strike at any time from birth until 2 years.

It does not appear to be hereditary, seldom occurring in the same family twice.

Most victims have little or no history of previous serious illness.

First-Degree Murder Conviction Again to be Sought for Jack Ruby

Defense Sure Accused Oswald Killer Will be Free in Months

Defense counsel expressed confidence, however, that the former Dallas night club operator will go free within months if he is allowed to plead guilty to a charge of murder without malice.

Wade, in Dallas, was chief prosecutor in the trial ending there March 14, 1964, with a state court jury assessing Ruby, 35, a death sentence.

Compatible Marriage Not Necessarily Happy, Young Couples Feel

WASHINGTON (AP) — A government study of 200 young middle class couples suggests that compatibility — at least as defined by the couples themselves — is not necessarily a sign of a truly happy marriage.

A government mental health researcher, Dr. Robert Ryder, said terms like "compatible," "harmonious," "comfortable" and "congenial" really may be synonyms for blandness or lack of excitement.

His comments came Wednesday in a report summarized for a publication of the National Institutes of Health.

Ruby shot Oswald in view of live television cameras Nov. 24, 1963. Oswald had been arrested soon after the Nov. 22 assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

The decision also states the verdict was reversible because the trial judge, Joe B. Brown, did not allow the case to be tried outside Dallas County as asked by the defense.

Ruby has been in custody since he shot Oswald.

A murder without malice conviction carries a two-to-five-year prison sentence in Texas.

"Education—Antidote for Poverty" was the topic presented by Dean Francis L. Broderick of Lawrence University for the AAUW opening fall meeting Wednesday evening.

Questions Whether Education Will Solve Poverty Problems

Education as an antidote to poverty was questioned Wednesday evening by Dr. Francis L. Broderick when he spoke to the Appleton Branch of the American Association of University Women. The speaker, dean of Lawrence and Downer Colleges of Lawrence University, said that such a cure to poverty reflects the fine historic values of the American past, and has become a solution one turns to out of habit.

For a long time in our history, education was the answer to poverty — for the poor consisted largely of the European immigrant, who did not know the language nor possess the basic skills with which to earn a living. Jefferson believed that if man were educated out of the tyrannies of church and state, man could be carried to perfection. This faith in education has persevered and, going toward the 21st Century, it is consoling to think it will still work as a cure for poverty.

Dr. Broderick is skeptical that it is the answer.

Different Here
American poverty, he said, is unique in all the world, and what we consider poverty here would be regarded as moderate wealth in most other parts of the world.

American poverty has become a way of life for many of our urban people, largely non-white. The speaker suggested more who have developed a habit of failure. Being on relief is now a third generation habit for many answer to poverty. In this families, who constantly expect things to go badly and to whom is the last to be hired, there will

No Way Out
Poverty for the non-white is even more crippling than for the white man. He sees no way out. Formerly education made it possible within one generation for immigrants to be assimilated into American culture. It gave them the skills to permit them to make their own way. The 19th century was a time of rapid growth and a person, if he could get over the initial barriers of language and lack of skill, and was willing to work hard, could become rich.

Education does not do for the poverty-stricken now what it did then. Education provides for men at top scientific levels and also gives skills for the middle level technical and service jobs. It does not teach the skills to pull those below the poverty level off the bottom.

Not Relevant
Today's school curriculum in urban areas has no relevance. It is not teaching skills and the people already know the language. Nor would it be easy to name the basic skills needed to pull the urban poor up from poverty.

Court Order Doesn't Free Wife From Husband's Debts

John and Mary were married for five years. During this period many debts were incurred on Mary for payment of the red, some of which were still debts. The grocery store started Mary unpaid when John deserted an action against Mary for a $200 food bill. Mary resisted on the ground that the debt was no divorce, and in the decree that longer hers since the court had granted her by the court decreed that John should pay there was a provision requiring the debts.

Mary eventually sued for the ground that the debt was no divorce, and in the decree that longer hers since the court had granted her by the court decreed that John should pay there was a provision requiring the debts.

John left town and the creditors began making demand that were enforceable against Mary prior to the start of the divorce action.

Of course, Mary will be able to collect the amount of the grocery bill from her husband. Since, as part of the divorce decree, the court ordered John to pay the bill, Mary will be able to come into the divorce court and ask it to hold John in contempt of court for failure to obey the decree. If John should still fail to pay, he may be put in jail until he does pay.

No Grade Pressure in Some Lawrence Classes

Grade pressure, which report- edly wrinkles the brows and narrows the scope of college students, dropped a few degrees last week for upperclassmen returning to Lawrence University. Purpose of the plan is to encourage the hesitant student and to emphasize educational experience over mere grade- setting, officials said. The sci- ence major, for example, who might like to start a new language, but who hesitates to take a course in it, may find the change allows students to now follow their inclinations. He pick a maximum of four must- courses for which "pass" enough competence in the "fail" is substituted for the course to earn a pass, the usual letter grade. Only one equivalent of a "D" letter course a semester may be taken grade. on this basis, with required courses and those in a student's offering students this means of less grade pressure and more flexibility of curriculum. The plan will be reviewed by the faculty at the end of the aca- demic year.

For City Employees Hospital Benefits

Hospital - surgical insurance rates for Appleton's municipal employees will remain the same in the new contract year, beginning Oct. 1. City officials received the information Monday from Roy Wittwer of Associated Hospital Service, Inc., which has Blue Cross-Blue Shield Coverage. The insurance company's in- come from Blue Cross was $35,136 and it paid out $24,101 in claims. Under surgical care, the in- come from premiums was $15,854 and claims totaled $11,541. The figures are for the group's seven-month experience. In the ensuing year the premium for hospital-surgical, plus major medical coverage, will be $21.39 a month for a city employee and his family. An employee who is single pays an $8.27 premium. The city pays $12 of the premium for a married employee and $4.64 for non-married.

NOW CARS

The NOW Cars. More than just "new" cars. The Now Cars are designed from scratch for today's driving by today's drivers. They are cars on top of today, from a company on top of today: The 1967 American Motors. 1967 is the year we've been planning for, pointing toward. The year we bring you cars full of today's spirit, bursting with today's ideas. Cars with more room, more power, more safety; cars more exciting than any we've ever built! The Now Cars.

Engines for Now. Three sixes that go like eights-- and four V-8s that weren't here a year ago. The most modern engines in the industry, from an acceleration champ Six to the 343 cu. in. 4-bbl. Typhoon V-8.

Innovations for Now. Convertibles that are true six-seaters. Wink lights visible from the side and rally lights that herald your approach. A road-smoothing 4-link rear suspension--the first time ever with a single-unit body--to tame back-country roads.

Safety for Now. Every car from the 1967 American Motors includes: the long-awaited energy-absorbing steering column and deep-dish wheel; warning signal light to monitor both brake line systems; shoulder belt anchor plates; and the Double-Safety braking system we made standard five years before the rest of the industry. All built into solid, single-unit bodies.

Quality for Now. Our past is one of quality. Quality built in--like the Deep-Dip rustproofing and Ceramic-Armored exhaust systems pioneered by American Motors. And when quality is built in, the value stays in. See your American Motors/Rambler Dealer today. He's the only Now Car dealer in town.

And now--this great new warranty. In addition to 2-year or 24,000-mile warranty on the entire automobile, American Motors Corporation warrants the engine block, head and internal parts, water pump, intake manifold, transmission case and internal parts (except manual clutch), torque converter, drive shaft, universal joints, rear axle, differential and rear wheel bearings of its 1967 cars to be free from defects in material or workmanship for 5 years or 50,000 miles, whichever comes first. The owner must change the engine oil and install new oil filter every six (6) months or 4,000 miles, whichever comes first, clean oil filler cap (filtered type) and carburetor air cleaner element every 4,000 miles and replace it every 24,000 miles and furnish evidence of this service to an Authorized American Motors Dealer every six (6) months and have him certify as receipt and the car's mileage. Further, American Motors Corporation so warrants the remainder of the car for 2 years or 24,000 miles, whichever comes first, except tires (warranted by tire manufacturer). Any part so defective will be repaired or replaced, in accordance with the applicable portion of the warranty, without charge at an Authorized American Motors Dealership. Owners are responsible for deterioration, misuse and normal maintenance. Quality built in--so the value stays in.

REBEL Now, the first Excitement Machines in the intermediate class! A 114" wheel base. Excitement that's 197" long, 78" wide, 54" high. A choice of five engines, topped by a 343 cu. in. Typhoon V-8. A wide road stance and 4-link rear suspension to glue down corners, untwist curves.

AMBASSADOR Now, full-size luxury cars created for today, priced for the young man who wants his luxury car right now. 118" wheel base. Interiors now as spacious as the most expensive full-size cars. Choice of five smooth, silent engines to command. Your choice of luxury: Ambassador DPL hardtop (above) and DPL convertible: 990 hardtop, sedan, wagon; 680 sedans and wagon.

RAMBLER AMERICAN Now, Typhoon V-8 thunder comes to the low-priced economy champs. Two Typhoon V-8s: 3 big sixes, America's only complete line of compacts. Nine models, including the Dodge hardtop shown above.

New Lights Assured For College Avenue

Council Approves New $160,000 General Electric Installation

Appleton's College Avenue member of the finance committee will get a new lighting system which will begin 1967 budget lighting system in 1967 — request deliberations tonight, making it one of the best was somewhat critical of the illuminated retail centers in the speed in which city officials were moving and complained.

The council Wednesday night aldermen who did not attend a approved installation of new lighting demonstration meeting General Electric Co. lights last week were entitled to more during the avenue's reconstruction information on the system and tion at an estimated cost of its cost.

Proponents of the new system, which will boost the present one candle power to more than 10, emphasized that even if existing mercury vapor lights were retained there would be an estimated $65,000 to $70,000 expenditure involved.

Replace Wiring
Because plans are to replace old underground wiring and cable systems, all light standards will have to be removed, rewired and replaced anyway.

Mediator at K-C Sees Hope In Negotiation

Management, Labor Continue Meeting Today

NEENAH — Hopes for an early settlement in the seven-day-old Kimberly-Clark Corp. strike received a boost this morning when federal mediator Joseph L. Conley remarked that progress was being made in the negotiations between company and union officials.

The sessions recessed for lunch at noon today and will resume at 1:30 p.m.

Conley met with both parties, until 10 p.m. Tuesday and talks continued again at 8:30 a.m. today in the conference room of K-C's main office building.

There is some speculation that agreements have been reached on several points and the two parties are now working on the wording of the two-year contract, although this hasn't been confirmed by union or company officials.

The principle item which divided the company and union representatives at the bargaining table last week was over the number of Sundays to be included in the contract.

Conley now has spent seven days in negotiations with both parties.

The contract was terminated last Friday noon and almost 1,300 workers walked off their jobs at Lakeview and Badger-Globe Mills.

Members of Local 482 of the International Brotherhood of Pulp, Sulphite and Paper Mill Workers, and Local 467 of the United Papermakers and Paperworkers, AFL-CIO, have been picketing the two truck mills and several warehouses in the area which handle Kimberly-Clark inventory on a round-the-clock basis.

Seymour Woman Hurt In Auto Crash Today

Mary Ann Hegner, 19, 1013 Lincoln St., Seymour, received facial injuries about 2 a.m. today when the car she was driving left Outagamie County Trunk G east of Seymour, and by showing up at a meeting.

County police said the car was southbound when it left the road. The front of the vehicle was damaged.

The woman, who police said had several teeth knocked out, was taken to a hospital. Com- and driver education at 7 p.m. Monday nights at the senior high school.

$1.8 Million Water Project Federal Grant Needs Boost

Appleton's city officials will have to "make more noise" if they want to get action on a $1.8 million federal aid request to help pay for the Lake Winnebago water project, and asked to be kept abreast of current events on the project.

Dr. William Gallaher, water plant superintendent, said he met recently with Consoer, who was informed by consultants Townsend and Associates, Chi- cago engineering firm preparing the plans for the water expansion project the intake station and pipeline that more would have to be plans.

"They indicated the more noise the city makes, the more apt it is to get results on its aid request," Gallaher said.

He reported this to Mayor George Buckley who just the other day sent a letter to HUD, asking information on the status of the city's grant application. Byrnes, Proxmire and Nelson were sent copies of the letter.

Rep. John Byrnes, R-Green Bay, along with Democratic Senators William Proxmire and Nelson were sent copies of the letter.

Hearing Ordered On Murder Charge

Judge Keler Sets Appearance Of Edward Kubitz for Oct. 14

Edward J. Kubitz, 70, charged with first degree murder in connection with the shooting Sept. 11 of his former daughter-in-law, this morning asked for a preliminary hearing when he was arraigned in Outagamie County Court Branch 2.

Judge Gustave J. Keller set the hearing for 2:30 p.m., Oct. 14, and ordered a property bond of $20,000.

Kubitz, who lives at 1422 E. Wisconsin Ave., is charged with the shotgun slaying of Mrs. Delores Kubitz, 32, 1419 E. Amelia St., mother of two young children.

Mrs. Kubitz, who lived across the back yard from her ex-father-in-law, was struck in the back with a single blast from a .12 gauge shotgun as she worked in a small garden behind her home about 7 p.m. Sept. 11. She died a short time later at Appleton Memorial Hospital.

Shot From Window
Appleton police believe the blast that killed Mrs. Kubitz, a divorcee, was fired from a small second level window of the Edward Kubitz garage.

Kubitz, who is employed by a local electrical equipment manufacturing firm, was brought into court in a wheelchair, by Outagamie County Undersheriff Norbert J. Marx.

The elderly Appleton man, his left foot elevated and in a cast, sat nearly mute during his 5-minute court appearance today.

Most of the questions asked by Judge Keller were answered by Kubitz' attorney, Donald Herring. The only question answered by Kubitz pertained to how road. The front of the vehicle was damaged.

The woman, who police said had several teeth knocked out, was taken to a hospital. Com- and driver education at 7 p.m. Monday nights at the senior high school.

Annexations Should be 2-Way Street, Towns Told

$16 Million in Requests

Appleton Sets Budget Hearings

The first in a series of possible month-long hearings into $16 million city-wide budget requests for 1967 will be held tonight by the city council's finance committee.

Mayor George Buckley says he will attend all budget deliberations.

Ald. Alvin E. Tews (5th) is finance committee chairman. At Wednesday night's meeting, the council warned all department heads, including the superintendent of schools, to be prepared to list areas in which their respective budgets can be cut.

In another development, the council held an executive session following its regular meeting and approved in principle a 1967 contract with the Appleton Professional Policemen's Association.

The new agreement calls for $40 to $62 monthly wage increases, but no additional fringes, and will cost the city an extra $37,000 next year. A spokesman said the new salary ranges raise Appleton up to other cities of comparable size.

The council's personnel committee is still negotiating new contracts with firemen and other unions.

Pickets were withdrawn from in front of Park "N" Markets here and in Neenah today with announcement that union-management differences have been resolved.

Earlier in the summer the Amalgamated Meatcutters and Butcher Workers of North America, Local 73, AFL-CIO, served notice on management that it conducted a membership drive and signed a majority of employees.

A dispute over representation and certification followed, resulting in the union filing unfair labor practices against Park "N" Market with the National Labor Relations Board. An NLRB hearing is set for Nov. 1.

Earlier in the week, the union posted pickets at the two stores here and third in Neenah, and also at Shannon Warehouse where Park "N" Market does business. Union truck drivers recognized the pickets and construction trades union members putting up an addition at Shannon's were considering similar action to halt work.

Joint Statement
In the meantime, union and management spokesmen met and this morning in a joint statement said, "The union and the company have resolved their differences pending the result of the NLRB hearing on unfair labor practices scheduled for Nov. 1."

It was authorized by Atty. Gordon Gill, representing the company, and Gordon Loehr, Fond du Lac, business agent for Local 73. The company, it was reported, agreed to the same area-wide wage and fringe benefit agreement negotiated in other meat departments in Northeastern Wisconsin.

Complete details were not disclosed. Only the meat departments at the three stores are affected.

Holy Name Society Plans Sunday Smoker
KAUKAUNA — A breakfast meeting of the Holy Name Society of Holy Cross Catholic Church will not follow the 7 a.m. reception of holy communion Sunday, but will be replaced by an 8 p.m. smoker.

Members and Boy Scouts are to assemble at church for the morning mass. Gilbert Anderl, Kaukauna mayor, will speak on "Safety" at the evening program in the school hall after which cards will be served.

Welfare Director's Veto Upheld on Trip for Welfare Director
Alderman Doubts Mayor's Claim Of Schools Providing Instruction
A mayor's veto, unwed mothers and vending machines became entangled in aldermanic controversy Wednesday night. The final outcome was that Aldermen upheld the mayor's recent veto of a trip planned by the city welfare director to Des Moines, Iowa, to get information on a continuation school for unwed mothers.

Mayor George Buckley, in defense of his veto in connection with his policy of prohibiting municipal employees from making out-of-state trips at city expense, said the Appleton Public Schools were providing instruction for young girls forced to drop out of school because of pregnancy.

Questions Inference
—Ald. Glenn Thompson (13th), chairman of the welfare ordinance committee which authorized the trip, said he also conferred with public school officials and said, to his knowledge, no post-dropout instruction ever was provided pregnant dropouts as Buckley inferred.

—Later in the meeting the council voted to send two members of the health department staff to the National Merchandising Exposition on vending machines to Chicago.

The mayor is now dating 500 on his vetoes, issuing four during his first six months in office and being sustained on two.

However, Thompson and Ald. Clifford Radder (16th) were not sold on the mayor's explanation of what the public schools are reportedly doing for unwed mothers.

Turnabout Vote
Radder was incensed when the council knocked out the Des Moines trip and then voted to send two other city employees to the Chicago vending machine exposition. He was told vending machines were getting to be big business.

And an explanation was given that one of the health department employees would be attending a pollution conference at Detroit in late October and could travel to Chicago from there "on his way home."

Mayor Buckley had given approval to the arrangement. But Radder had the final council voted to send two members of the health department staff to the National Merchandising Exposition on vending machines to Chicago.

Oct. 28-30 at city expense.

Convention Vehemently Opposes Property Loss Without Prior Referendum Vote of Owners

Annexation — in the opinion of the Wisconsin Towns Association — is a two-way street.

The Association went on record shortly before noon today as being "vehemently opposed" to annexation without referendum of town property by cities.

Acting as expected, about 250 delegates to the organization's convention at Sabre Lanes, Town of Menasha, unanimously approved anti-annexation resolutions and asked "all towns to unite in killing vicious bills whereby towns would be torn apart piecemeal."

The resolution included a statement that towns with village powers be treated as villages — no territory to be taken from them without referendum.

Increased Authority
Resolutions adopted by the convention at its final session, generally asked that increased authority be given town boards through legislation.

Protesting the rights of village boards and city councils to approve annexation petitions, the association proposed "legislation requiring that town boards' approval of annexations is necessary before the annexation of territory from the town becomes effective."

"Town boards presently have no voice in the approval of territory being annexed to the villages or cities of their respective town," the resolution said.

Seeks Authority
The association also requested that "towns with village board powers, have authority to annex territory from a city or village," desiring re-annexation.

An additional resolution asked for protection of tax bases of newly created high school districts with large bonded indebtedness. Legislation requiring school boards losing a part of the district through annexation of territory to an adjoining municipality must give their approval before the annexation becomes necessary, the resolution stated.

Delegates unanimously approved an incorporation resolution at this morning's final session of the three-day convention. They proposed that towns with population of 3,000 or more persons, be granted authority to incorporate if:

—Towns meet minimum standards.
Ringling Alarm Clock Wakes Husband; Finds Wife Dead in Bed
Mrs. Howard Haferbecker, 44, 513 E. Spring St., was found dead in bed by her husband about 5:30 a.m. today.

Outagamie County Coroner Bernard H. Kemps said the woman, who had been dead several hours, suffered a heart attack. Attempts by Appleton firemen to revive her were unsuccessful.

Kemps said Haferbecker found his wife after her alarm clock continued to ring.

The body was released to the Bretschneider-Trettn Funeral Home.

Valley Union Renames Officers
Communications workers, local 5521, representing 215 members in the Fox Valley area, re-elected all officers to a two-year term at a recent meeting.

Reseated were Gene VanRyzin, 1125 Jardin Court, Appleton, president. Elaine Ruch, 610 N. Bateman, Appleton, secretary-treasurer; and Ernest Davis, 766 Irish Road, Neenah, vice president.

Alderman Doubts Mayor's Claim Of Schools Providing Instruction

A mayor's veto, unwed mothers and vending machines became entangled in aldermanic controversy Wednesday night.

The final outcome was that Aldermen upheld the mayor's recent veto of a trip planned by the city welfare director to Des Moines, Iowa, to get information on a continuation school for unwed mothers.

Mayor George Buckley, in defense of his veto in connection with his policy of prohibiting municipal employees from making out-of-state trips at city expense, said the Appleton Public Schools were providing instruction for young girls forced to drop out of school because of pregnancy.

Questions Inference
—Ald. Glenn Thompson (13th), chairman of the welfare ordinance committee which authorized the trip, said he also conferred with public school officials and said, to his knowledge, no post-dropout instruction ever was provided pregnant dropouts as Buckley inferred.

—Later in the meeting the council voted to send two members of the health department staff to the National Merchandising Exposition on vending machines to Chicago.

Oct. 28-30 at city expense.

Welfare Clients
And Thompson claimed there are many young girls who get pregnant and do not finish their education here, eventually becoming welfare clients, along with the child.

"We want to help these girls to help themselves so they will want to get a diploma," Thompson said.

Thompson doubted whether the public school program was reaching the girl with the sociological problem, who had given up hopes of ever resuming studies. "A program of continuation instruction would aid these young girls and offer them encouragement to become good mothers and self-supporting."

Thompson said he understood the burden was on the girl to go to school authorities and request special instruction at her home. "And although the schools have the necessary forms to fill out, I understand this has never been done before," Thompson added.

Contradicts Mayor
The alderman's statements contradicted Buckley's who said under the law the schools

Graduate Fellowships Worth Extra Effort

BY SYLVIA PORTER

If you stay in school to earn a graduate degree, it'll be worth at least $1,000 a year more to you in annual earnings than a "mere" B.A. and this is an absolute minimum.

Porter

This is a key reason why a record 493,000 Americans are enrolled this school year in graduate and professional schools, and why this number is expected to double in the decade directly ahead. At a growing number of colleges and universities, 80 per cent or more of the undergraduates are now planning to continue beyond their senior year in college.

Financial Aid

And the soaring demand from both private industry and government for those with graduate degrees is why the sum of financial aid available to the students is climbing rapidly. Roughly 83,000 graduate fellowships and research assistantships totaling $175,000,000 will be awarded this year alone. An overwhelming four out of five U.S. graduate students in the arts and sciences are receiving some kind of financial assistance. Just in the past decade, the National Science Foundation, the nation's biggest single source of fellowships, has boosted its fellowship and traineeship funds from $1.5 million to $35 million.

But a single year of graduate study now costs a staggering $4,120. A Ph.D. may cost $20,000 or more, on top of $10,000-$12,000 for undergraduate schooling.

Obviously, the vast majority of students and their families cannot afford such sums, even though they may be acutely aware of the potential long-range return on the investment. They must have financial help. Fellowships, which have jumped to an average of about $3,000 a year today, are their major solution.

Competition for graduate fellowships is admittedly fierce, particularly in the sciences and for the fastest fellowships. But there also are thousands of fellowships available to the non-genius with a serious interest in higher education and a worthwhile study plan.

How To Apply

So, if you, or your child, are considering graduate study and need a fellowship to help support it, here are five basic steps to follow:

(1) Consult your graduate study advisor and professors in your major department on kinds and sources of fellowships and

Army Sergeant Killed at Home In Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Sgt. Harry Combs, 52, a member of the Army detachment that advises Milwaukee Army Reserve units, was stabbed fatally in a bedroom of the family apartment Wednesday night.

Police said a 16-year old youth sought for questioning walked into a precinct station about two hours later and gave himself up.

The County Medical Examiner said Combs apparently bled to death from three stab wounds in the side inflicted by an all-metal 14-inch homemade knife.

Combs was the father of two sons and two daughters.

Officers quoted a neighbor as saying she heard an argument in the Combs' apartment about the time of the stabbing. The knife was found in the apartment.

Electric Outage Friday Morning For 3 Hours

Many residents in the Boom, Bay, Readfield and Zittau areas will be without electric service from 2 to 5 a.m. Friday, according to Wisconsin Michigan Power Co. electricity will be restored sooner if possible officials said.

The interruption is necessary so crews can relocate a power pole to facilitate the widening of U.S. 10 a WMPCO spokesman said.

To cause the least inconvenience, the interruption has been planned while most people will be sleeping.

Outagamie GOP's Offered Free Bus Ride To Rally in Milwaukee

The Outagamie County Republican Party will provide free bus transportation for those attending the GOP rally at Milwaukee Saturday night.

Murel Edinger, county GOP chairman, said the bus will leave at 5:30 p.m. Saturday from Republican headquarters at 308 N. Appleton St. Those who wish to ride the bus may make reservations by contacting Republican headquarters between 1 and 5 p.m.

The rally is planned as a fun get-together, with political speeches "out" and musical entertainment "in." The program will feature Earl Wrightson and Lois Hunt, musical comedy stars, Steve Swendish and his orchestra, the Continental Youth Band, the Badger Ballads, the Citations and Watusi Dancers, and Joe Gurnin and his Dixieland band.

British Outline Plan For Peace in Viet Nam

Foreign Secretary Offers Proposal; Laborites Vote To Change Wilson Policy

BRIGHTON, England (AP) — "ending overdependence on British Foreign Secretary George Brown today outlined a six-point Viet Nam peace program, beginning with a parley at which the Viet Cong should have a seat.

On the heels of Brown's proposal, Laborites voted for changes in Prime Minister Harold Wilson's foreign and defense policies, calling against their leader's advice, for an end of American bombings as a first step toward Vietnamese peace.

The adverse resolutions appeared to reflect confused thinking by some of the 1,250 delegates who, during the same process of voting, overwhelmingly endorsed the broad conduct and aims of the Wilson government's foreign and defense policies.

Two Issues

Defeat of the leadership came on two distinct issues: On Viet Nam, the conference called on the Wilson government by 3,351,000 votes to 2,644,000 to:

— "Bring all pressures" on the United States to end the war. — Promote peace talks for a settlement based on the 1954 Geneva armistice agreement. — Work for an end of American bombings "as a step towards securing a political atmosphere" for peace.

All these are aims broadly compatible with Wilson's policies, except that they put the onus on the Americans alone to create conditions for peace. Official British policy holds that the North Vietnamese must display at least equal readiness to contribute toward peacemaking.

On defense policy the conference urged the government by 3,470,000 votes to 2,932,000 to:

— Cut its role in West Germany and its commitments east of Suez. — Withdraw British forces from Malaysia, Singapore and the Persian Gulf by 1969-1970.

Flies to U. S.

Brown, who flies to the United States Friday, said he will urge his peace proposals on Gromyko and American Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

As the foreign secretary spoke, scores of demonstrators demanding peace in Viet Nam paraded outside the convention hall.

In the debate itself speaker after speaker urged that the Labor government should dissociate this country from President Johnson's policies in Viet Nam. But this, Brown made clear, the government does not propose to do.

"I stand ready to convene this (Geneva) conference at any time," Brown said. "And I shall repeat my offer to Mr. Gromyko in New York next week and, what is more, go on repeating the offer until he feels able to accept it."

Common Ground

Brown said he detects common ground between the contenders in Viet Nam about the sort of settlement that should emerge. Both, he said, have shown readiness to base a new settlement on the 1954 agreements.

He suggested this basis of a possible Viet Nam settlement:

1. A peace parley should meet as soon as possible with the National Liberation Front of the Viet Cong directly represented. 2. As soon as peace talks are agreed in principle:

— The Americans should quit all bombing and should not resume again unless negotiations fail and the war restarts. — Reinforcement of American and South Vietnamese forces should cease. — Dispatch of North Vietnamese troops and supplies southward should stop.

3. High commands on both sides should stop.

Conferees Seek Aid Bill Compromise

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate and House conferees meet today to seek a compromise on their respective foreign aid outlays, both well below President Johnson's request.

The President had asked $3.4 billion. The House voted a $3.09-billion appropriation. And the Senate Wednesday voted $2.93 billion.

Before passing its version Wednesday by a vote of 52 to 22, the Senate trimmed $110 million out of the measure, most of it military aid.

Leading the cutback effort was longtime foreign aid foe Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La. He said about $48 million of the cut would prevent resumption of military aid to India and Pakistan. It also would halt sales on credit of American arms to developing nations.

Senate Investigators Arrive in Viet Nam

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Top U.S. Senate investigators arrived in Saigon today on a visit that could be a prelude to a new congressional probe of black marketeering, the shipping backlog and giant civilian construction operations in Viet Nam.

Jerome Adlerman, chief counsel of the Senate Investigations subcommittee, declined to discuss his visit in detail after he landed at Tan Son Nhut Airport. He was accompanied by Philip W. Morgan, minority counsel of the subcommittee.

Mediators Hunt For Solution to Deadlock at GE

Both Sides Refuse To Budge in Offers, Contract Demands

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal mediators continue probing today for an opening wedge in the bargaining positions of union and company negotiators in a threatened General Electric strike which the government fears would harm national defense.

"We have no new money to put on the table," General Electric's top negotiator, Philip D. Moore, told chief federal mediator, William E. Simkin.

President Paul Jennings of the AFL-CIO International Union of Electrical Workers told Simkin in a separate meeting that the union considers it "critical" to win its demands for a bigger cost of living wage offer, improved methods to solve grievances and raising lower wage differentials in General Electric's southern plants.

Simkin scheduled further separate talks with both sides today.

Presidential Panels

A special panel of three Cabinet members appointed by President Johnson to help try to solve the deadlocked negotiations remained in the background.

There had been some hints that the trio — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz and Secretary of Commerce John T. Connor — might talk to a joint meeting Wednesday.

But Simkin's report of the refusal of both sides to budge from their positions apparently squelched any such possibility for the time being.

President Expands Summit Trip Into Major Asian Tour

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is expanding his trip to the Manila conference into a major Asian tour with visits to New Zealand, Australia, Thailand, Malaysia and South Korea, as well as the Philippines.

Johnson's plans were disclosed today by governments of several of the Asian nations.

There was no immediate word from the White House, but the President scheduled an afternoon news conference that was expected to bring his confirmation of the announcements from abroad.

The official visits to the five nations will be sandwiched around the Oct. 24-25 Manila meeting of chiefs of state of the seven countries with troops

Paper Says RFK Won't Run in '68

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Post today quoted Sen. Robert F. Kennedy as saying he would not run for President or vice president in 1968 "under any foreseeable circumstances."

Kennedy "made it clear that he would not be interested in being President Johnson's running mate even if the President asked him to," the Post article said.

The New York Democrat had said Sept. 1 in an Associated Press interview that he would support Johnson and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey for re-election in 1968.

With one last vicious blow at Cuba, Inez damaged the tobacco crop, source of Havana cigars. In her earlier sweep across the eastern part of the Communist island, she had laid waste to sugar fields.

On the northwest coast, as the storm passed Wednesday night, Havana Radio said two persons were electrocuted and another drowned, bringing the storm's announced death toll in Cuba to four. Hundreds were injured during her previous visit.

Inez is known to have killed more than 150 persons in the Caribbean and possibly many more in Haiti.

Red Toll Increasing

Viet Cong Unit Surrenders As Allied Force Closes In

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A unit of 66 Viet Cong soldiers surrendered en masse today as American, Korean and South Vietnamese forces closed in on an encircled, fragmented Communist force on the central coast.

The wholesale surrender raised to about 300 the number of prisoners taken by the combined allied force in five days of operation. It was probably the war's biggest bag of prisoners, and in addition the allied forces claimed nearly 550 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong killed in the pincer operation north of Qui Nhon.

To the north just below the demilitarized zone, U.S. Marines braved a hail of Communist grenades and waded in ankle-deep mud Wednesday to capture the last hill along a four-mile ridge they had been clearing of North Vietnamese for 15 days.

Casualties Light Marine casualties were described as light, but three 90mm tank shells fired in support of the Leathernecks fell short, killing three Marines and wounding seven others in the base camp for the operation.

The Marine operations below the demilitarized zone for the second time in two weeks pushed American combat casualties last week above those of South Vietnamese forces although American losses were less than the week before.

The U.S. command said 99 Americans were killed and 642 wounded during the week that ended last Saturday, compared with 87 killed and 288 wounded reported by the South Vietnamese. Other allied forces reported ed 16 men killed and 48 wounded, nearly double the toll the week before.

Enemy losses reported were also down, 1,104 killed last week compared with 1,203 the previous week.

The casualties last week brought the total number of Americans reported killed in the war to 5,301 and the wounded to 20,014. Totals reported for the year include 3,523 Americans killed, 6,839 South Vietnamese killed and 40,149 enemy dead.

The coastal campaign, Operation Irving, has become one of the most successful drives of the war.

Carrying safe conduct passes, the 66 battle-battered Viet Cong came through the lines to give

Wild Rose Man Killed in Action In Viet Nam War

WILD ROSE — Army Pic Gary Dopp, 23, route 1, Almond, was killed in Viet Nam when the armored personnel carrier in which he was riding struck a mine, his parents were informed Wednesday night by the Department of Army.

On Sept. 25 Mr. and Mrs. Russell Dopp received a telegram from the Department of Army listing their son as missing in action after the explosion two days earlier.

Dopp, a graduate of Wild Rose High School, had been in the Army for 18 months and in Viet Nam since April.

Funeral arrangements are being made by the Holy Family Home here. The Dopps have not been told when their son's body would arrive.

Production at Record Levels

Inflation Affects Counterfeiters, Too

WASHINGTON (AP) — If there's one thing the Treasury Department dislikes, it's competition in one of its major endeavors — making money.

Despite the department's phenomenal success over 101 years in eliminating competition, however, counterfeiting reached record levels during the year which ended June 30 and the heightened pace is continuing.

But the Secret Service, which was created in 1865 to combat widespread counterfeiting, also had some bad news for the makers of phony money. It reported record seizures and arrests for counterfeiting during its last fiscal year.

James J. Rowley, the Secret

Service director, said the major factor in the bogus money boom is the improvement in photography and printing which has made it easier and quicker to produce counterfeiters.

And the service added that counterfeiters, in general, are turning out more phony bills per capita than they once did. It's simply a matter of running the presses longer.

"There's no indication that this criminal activity will lessen in the coming year," Rowley said. He added that the rise in counterfeiting generally follows the rise in the society's affluence and the increase in the amount of money in circulation.

At last count on Aug. 31,

there was $36.6 billion in paper money in circulation.

Despite improvements in the quality of counterfeiters, they still fall short of Treasury standards — the parchment, for example, on which real money is printed has never been duplicated by counterfeiters.

The Secret Service dislikes talking publicly about the techniques it uses to catch counterfeiters, but pinpoints and undercover agents play an effective part in enforcement.

Among the modern tools the Treasury uses are its laboratories where it can examine the minute details of paper, inks — also not duplicated by counterfeiters — and other characteristics peculiar to bogus bills.

Senate Approves $1.8 Million Menominee Aid Measure

Bill Would Provide for Basic Health, Education Facilities

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bill to authorize $1,850,000 to aid the Menominee Indians in Wisconsin received final congressional approval in the senate Wednesday.

The measure, passed by voice vote, now goes to President Johnson if signed, actual funds will be voted later in separate money bills.

A report on the bill related that there is no doctor, dentist or hospital in Menominee County and its residents have been unable to meet costs of county government or local school and health facilities.

The Menominee tribe was escorted by Tim Egan May freed from federal supervision Deck by Gordy Stevenson and in 1954 by act of Congress and Joann Pomrenke by Bill Bachman. The tribe includes most of the 3,200 residents of Menominee County.

Since then Congress has provided $669,000 to help pay school costs and $233,000 for sanitation facilities but neither the county nor Wisconsin has been able to meet the health and educational needs of the tribe.

"The people are living in poverty, without elemental sanitary and medical facilities," the report said.

The bill provides federal aids to the county over a period of four years. The breakdown is as follows:

School district costs, $150,000 per year.

Public welfare benefits, $100,000 per year.

Health and sanitation services, $200,000 per year.

Construction and sanitation services, $300,000 per year.

Anti-tuberculosis program, $100,000 per year.

Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., and Rep. Melvin Laird, R-Wis., drafted the bill and submitted identical measures in both houses.

Queen Connie Hanson will be escorted by Tim Egan May freed from federal supervision Deck by Gordy Stevenson and in 1954 by act of Congress and Joann Pomrenke by Bill Bachman. The tribe includes most of the 3,200 residents of Menominee County.

Big Weekend I-S Students, Faculty Ready for Homecoming

IOLA — High school students where the Thunderbirds will and faculty have spent a busy week preparing for Saturday's traditional football game at homecoming ceremonies.

"Happiness is a T-Bird Victory," the homecoming theme, prophesies the team's determination to upset the highly touted Weyauwega Indians. All week T-Bird backers have spent evenings building floats and rehearsing skits. Freshmen have been collecting materials for the traditional bonfire.

Homecoming Royalty

Homecoming King and Queen Bob Opperman and Chris Hotvedt will be accompanied by a court representing each of the high school classes. Seniors, Carl Krause and Betty Finch; juniors, Charles Koerner and Sue Krostue; sophomores, Bruce Meagner and Marie Olson, and freshman, Jim Opperman and Linda Lastolka.

Festivities will begin Friday night when each class presents a homecoming skit in the school gymnasium. Sophomores responsible for general skit preparations have picked Marla Reiss as mistress of ceremonies. The skits will be followed by a snake dance and pep rally around the bonfire.

Parade Saturday

Saturday's activities began with a parade led by the school band. Floats built by various classes will pass down Main Street, back past the football field and on to the football field.

Dramatics Coach To Assist With 'Sound of Music'

NEW LONDON — Gary Johnson, school drama coach at the senior high school, has been added to the production staff of "Sound of Music" to be presented at 8 p.m. Nov. 8, 10, 11 and 12 at the Washington School auditorium.

Johnson has been in charge of all school drama productions since 1963. He organized the school's Dramatics Club.

Others in charge of production are Michael G. Kaehr, vocal director, and Donald Griebel, instrumental music.

Tickets are being sold by students and at the high school business office. Students will make a door-to-door sale prior to the performances.

WAUPACA — Vere L. Fiedler, Madison, secretary of the State Highway Commission, will be the featured speaker at the official luncheon Oct. 12 following dedication ceremonies for the new U. S. 10 beltline.

The noon luncheon will be at the Waupaca Country Club Menasha.

Following the 9:30 a.m. ribbon cutting ceremonies on the east interchange of the bypass, a motorcade over the beltline and party permits replace four-man permits for deer hunters due to interchanges also will be featured Gov. Warren P. Knowles will attend.

Fiedler, who has been a state highway commissioner since 1979 and secretary since 1980, will address many city, county and state officials and businessmen at the noon luncheon.

Arrangements for the entire program are being made by committees from several civic groups under the direction of G. H. Siordock.

Board Sets Review Date

Hilbert Property Owners Seek More Assessment Hearings

HILBERT — Another board of review has been scheduled here from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Oct. 13, according to Mrs. Arthur Pruess, village clerk.

Due to the recent reassessment of the village to bring properties up to 100 per cent valuation, the July review was postponed until Monday. Eighteen taxpayers were heard. Because many more requested hearings, the additional day has been scheduled. Mrs. Pruess said.

Open house last Thursday and Friday allowed property owners a chance to discuss their assessments with appraisers. The weekend will end with a presentation of homecoming royal. The entire tax roll was also published in the local newspaper.

Law Officers Appoint Two Waupaca Men

State Association Assigns Rasmussen, Carlson to Duties

WAUPACA — Two members of the Waupaca Police Department received appointments in the Wisconsin Law Enforcement Officers Association (WLEOA), at a meeting Tuesday in Madison.

William Carlson, juvenile officer, was appointed membership chairman by Roland Recker, WLEOA president, and Police Chief Fred Rasmussen, was appointed to the board of directors, and as publicity chairman.

New London Police Chief, Jack Algiers was appointed to the charter committee, which will attempt to have police departments with 100 per cent membership in the WLEOA apply for a local charter.

Change Bylaws

Other business included changing the bylaws so that the president is limited to two terms of office, each term for one year. Recker, a member of the Appleton Police Department, remains president.

The office of secretary-treasurer was split, and separate officers named Joseph Creapo, River Falls, former secretary-treasurer, is treasurer and William Diebold, Menona, was elected as new secretary.

The 1967 WLEOA state convention will be held at Hudson during the third week of June.

Town Services

Mayor Matheson said at a recent meeting of fire and police department heads, along with officials from the towns of Waupaca, Farmington and Lind, it was proposed that if the city would operate an ambulance service it would also provide the service for the same area in the three towns which are now receiving fire protection from Waupaca. Town officials seemed to favor such an agreement.

Matheson said.

Naming U.N. Chief Takes Long Fight

Diplomats Hesitant to Start Search for Successor to Thant

By MAX HARKELSON
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. — U.N. diplomats know from hard experience that weeks of bargaining and compromise — long with possible aggravation of U.S.-Soviet relations — will precede agreement on a successor to Secretary-General U Thant.

The list of those mentioned for the post is not promising. Some have been ticked off as unqualified, while others are obviously unacceptable to all the big powers.

That is why the diplomats have been reluctant to begin the search until they are convinced that Thant will not reconsider his decision to step down at the end of the year.

The choice of a secretary-general involves a large element of chance, and the question in the minds of many is how long the United Nations can count on getting such men as Thant, Dag Hammarskjold and Trygve Lie.

Under the U.N. charter the office of secretary-general is open to all. In practice many distinguished leaders are barred by unwritten law, tradition and the threat of a big power veto.

It has been accepted by now that the secretary-general must come from a small, nonaligned country and must be acceptable to all the big powers. This narrows the field to those who have either been relatively obscure or who have avoided involvement in major controversies.

This was not so in the beginning. When the United Nations began looking for its first secretary-general 21 years ago, one of the first names suggested was that of Dwight D. Eisenhower. Trygve Lie himself suggested Anthony Eden, and he reported later that the British now Lord Avon — was not adverse.

League of Nations
This was in the tradition of the League of Nations, which had both a British and a French secretary-general during its first years.

But a majority of the U.N. members felt that the new organization should avoid the selection of a big power representative. The United States also decided that it would not be right for an American to head the organization since its headquarters was to be located in this country.

As Lie himself tells it, "It was generally agreed that the secretary-general should not be an American because this would give too much to a single member nation. The United States itself took the view that an American should not be secretary-general."

The big powers decided each would have a representative in the "cabinet" of the secretary-general. This was put into practice by Lie, although he felt that this decision encroached on his own authority to select his assistants.

International Figures
Some of the men eventually selected under this arrangement went on to establish themselves as international figures, although none was ever considered eligible to become head of the United Nations. These included Ralph J. Bunche, who won the Nobel Peace Prize for his work in negotiating the Palestine armistice in 1949. Paul G. Hoffman, head of the U.N. Development program, from David Owen, British economist who has been with the United Nations since its beginning, and two top Soviet members of the secretariat. Arkady A. Sobolev and Anatoly Dobrynin, Sobolev later returned as head of the Soviet U.N. Delegation; Dobrynin is now ambassador to Washington.

Except for the fact that they were representatives of big powers any one of this group might have been considered a logical choice for the post of secretary-general.

Troika Plan
The Soviet Union tried in 1961 to give the undersecretaries a bigger role in U.N. affairs after Premier Nikita Khrushchev failed to win support for his famed "troika plan." This envisaged replacing the secretary-general by a three-man committee, made up of one Communist representative, one Western representative and one neutral. It is no wonder the Russians had become unhappy with the role of the secretary-general. In London, when the first secretary-general was being selected, the Russians put forward the name of the Yugoslav Foreign Minister Stanoje Simic. United States suggested Lester B. Pearson of Canada. They compromised on Lie, foreign minister in Norway's Labor government. Apparently the Kremlin believed that even though Norway was non-Communist, Lie himself was a Socialist and friendly to the Soviet Union.

Broke With Soviets
Lie, however, broke with the Russians over the Communist invasion of South Korea in 1950. He resigned after more than two years of feuding with the Russians. Almost a dozen candidates were considered and rejected — some by Soviet veto — before the big powers finally agreed on Hammarskjold. Hammarskjold was a minister in the Swedish Cabinet and little known at U.N. headquarters. His selection came without any initiative on his part, and associates said nobody was more surprised when he learned he had the job.

Here again the Russians were in for a jolt. They soon found that Hammarskjold had his own ideas about the role of secretary-general. His handling of the Congo problem came under sharp Soviet criticism. Khrushchev demanded that he resign.

When Hammarskjold died, the Russians agreed to Thant, at that time Burma's permanent representative at the United Nations, but only after their troika move had failed. They insisted that Thant be chosen first as acting secretary-general. A year later he was chosen for a regular term.

Thant has managed to get on reasonably well with all sides, despite a few instances in which he stepped on some toes. He continues to uphold the independence of the office and has even expanded its scope in the tradition begun by Lie and Hammarskjold.

Thant Record
At the time of Thant's election, few diplomats believed that the United Nations would ever have another secretary-general of Hammarskjold's stature. Many now agree that from all parts of the world, but Thant has made a notable move to record of his own.

Thus the United Nations has chosen an African. One difficult had a Norwegian, a Swede and prospects are untried, controlled a Burmese as secretary-general among the Africans. But the membership of the organization has undergone a major change since 1945. Once a Movie Set

Tiny Florida Islands Turned Into Micronesia for Peace Corps Study

By JAMES A. BOURDIER
MUNSON ISLAND, Fla. (AP) — The clack of bamboo poles echoed off palm trees on this sandy Florida key, and dark-skinned Micronesians chanted of war.

But the object of their chant was peace, not war. Their audience was made up of trainees for the Peace Corps which is sending teachers to the South Pacific islands that make up Micronesia.

As the Micronesians chanted, they danced a dance as old as their civilization. Their stage was the floor of what little remained of a large building. Rotting timbers littered the ground. Thatched huts showed the ravages of decay.

Blue Tents
Once the building was part of the set for the movie PT-109, the story of the late President John F. Kennedy's World War II exploits. The huts and crumbling buildings are all that Hollywood left.

On Munson Island, and near County Traffic Patrol and had regained consciousness before roll Jester of the Whidbey at home weaving a hat out of the arrival of the Eberhardt and Island Naval Air Station and Hoh ambulance which took him, Nancy Lind of Sedro Woolley, to Community hospital. by Ramrod Key, new, blue tents guages keep the natives from complete union, especially in commercial affairs.

The main job facing Peace Corps volunteers will be teaching English to give the natives a common language.

Most of the 200 Peace Corps trainees are teachers, but there are a few lawyers and students. All said they found the Micronesian languages difficult.

Trainee Marc Spencer of Brooklyn said he spends hours with a headset clamped on his ears to learn an island language.

Fish, Cook, Weave

While they master the language and fight the mosquitoes, the trainees also use their three weeks in the humid keys to learn how the natives fish with nets, cook, weave with palm fronds and sail.

The training started in late June. Although it does not end until October, some of the Americans have already adjusted. Mary Berylo of Grand Rapids, Mich., for instance, looks right at home weaving a hat out of palm fronds.

And Fred Holt Jr. of Jena, La., has learned to fish all over again — Micronesian net style. But Gil Hersh puffs as he pumps water from a drum so his wife, Nina, can take a cold shower. Things were never like that in Woodmere, N.Y.

He quickly pronounced Car-Mich., for instance, looks right at home weaving a hat out of palm fronds.

Airport Service, Facility Improvements Studied By Clintonville Council

Approves Expenditure for Work On Main Terminal Building

CLINTONVILLE — Improved for paving the two-foot terrace services and facilities at the between the curb and sidewalk of municipal airport were considered by the city council Tuesday night.

The council approved additional terminal facilities costing up to $250 as recommended by Basil Avery, airport manager.

The city attorney was authorized to draft a contract providing for limousine service at the airport as requested by W. D. Horton and Eldred Hall for future consideration by the council.

Mayor Frank Siniewicz said the airport commission felt the added service would improve the airport.

The proposed service would be self-supporting without cost to the city.

Maintain Lights

The council authorized the Water and Light Commission to act for it in regard to maintaining lights at the airport.

The council also approved an airport commission recommendation authorizing the mayor and clerk to sign an agreement with the Clintonville Trap Club Small Cities Association meeting for a 10-year lease upon completion of that portion of the lease operator's conference at Waukesha. All are scheduled this month.

The council authorized $300 for specifications on storm and sanitary sewer projects to be presented by Foth and Porath, consulting engineers, Green Bay. They also will let bids for the entire $40,000 job.

Are the Republicans Hawks?

In the debates over the war in Viet Nam it has generally been dissident Democrats who have most strenuously opposed American policies, the added ground troops and the ever-increasing bombing raids Republican strategy has been to talk about the credibility gap, to charge that the Democrats are responsible for our involvement but to offer no advice on how to get out.

But in the last few weeks there have been some comments from Republican leaders which indicate that they are playing politics with the war just as much as the man in the White House. In so doing, they could throw away one of the best opportunities for a resurgence of power or at least influence since 1954.

President Eisenhower, who went to Korea before his election and in whose first term the war was brought to an end, said in Chicago last week that he would use all means possible to "win" the war in Viet Nam and he refused to count out the use of nuclear weapons. In part this was undoubtedly designed to suggest to the Communists that they were not eternally safe from our nuclear strength. It may also have been some sort of effort to indicate to Hanoi, the Soviet Union and Red China, that the United States is united in its determination not to lose the war.

But the statement unfortunately came just after Richard Nixon had sternly criticized Ambassador Goldberg's proposals at the United Nations that the United States would de-escalate if there were any indications of similar moves on the part of Hanoi. Mr. Nixon called for repudiation of the proposals. And the conclusion must be that at least some segments of Republican leadership have decided to take a hard line on the war to try to put the Democrats on the defensive if they officially are pushing for negotiations.

Maybe this is being done in good faith. It is also quite possible — perhaps even likely — that the American people do not have the disposition to last out a long, limited war in which our casualties are always on the increase but our full strength is not committed. The point of view — political or not — that getting the war over with is the important thing has merit as far as American public opinion is concerned.

But if the Republican leadership is actually becoming committed to the stand that a hard line is necessary, that negotiations on the grounds of those suggested by Ambassador Goldberg are wrong, that unilateral increase of the pressure on all war fronts, including more raids on the North, more ground troops and the implication that invasion of North Viet Nam may be necessary — as it would have been to win the war in Korea — then they are in for another stinging defeat at the polls. Although President Johnson has virtually taken the war course advocated by Senator Goldwater in 1964, it was in part at least that advocacy that overwhelmed the Republican candidate. There is little indication that the American people are any more in favor of the Vietnamese conflict than they were then or than they were about the Korean War. We rather suspect that unless there is actually a major assault upon the United States such as Pearl Harbor, Americans generally will be opposed to any American participation in war, however logical or noble it may be made to sound.

The Republicans do not have an outstanding military leader to put up as a candidate in 1968 who can say with authority that the fighting ought to be called off and who can do so without charges that he is soft on Communism or cowardly or anything like that. But Mr. Eisenhower's statements in Chicago ought to be probed a little further. Does he now believe that the truce in Korea was a mistake? Can he counsel that had we used all force necessary to win that conflict — including nuclear weapons at that time quite unavailable to the enemy — we would not now have more than 300,000 troops in a jungle war in Asia?

Kraft Writes
Some Progress Noted on Essential Elements for Peace in Viet Nam

BY JOSEPH KRAFT
WASHINGTON — The diplomacy of Viet Nam is so obscured by clouds of ambiguity that an analytic review of recent developments is in order. For it shows that considerable progress has been made and that there is good reason to maintain the search for peace against the war-lovers here and in Saigon and beyond the election deadline that the President seems to have set.

The first, and most important, mark of progress is that the elements of a negotiation have emerged in more explicit fashion. Among other things there would have to be:

A cease-fire on the ground; an agreement to bring the National Liberation Front, or Viet Cong, into the political processes of South Viet Nam with a chance to attain power in free elections; an agreement for an eventual free choice by South Viet Nam on unification with the North; a calendar with a fixed terminal point for withdrawal of foreign troops, both American and North Vietnamese, from South Viet Nam; and an international guarantee of the whole package embodied by an international form of some kind.

People's Forum
Ohio Visitor Likes City's Hospitality

Editor, Post-Crescent:

Several weeks ago my 10-year-old boy fell from High Cliffs and fractured his left leg. He was confined to St. Elizabeth Hospital for over a month during which time I came to know Appleton quite well.

I was amazed at the hospitality and kind consideration that was extended to me. I especially want to thank Dr. Richards and Dr. Gmeimer for their expert attention as well as Sister Rafael, Mrs. Kreiger, Mrs. Noffke, Mrs. Landgraf, Mrs. Hanneman, Mrs. Walhardt, Miss Marski, and all the fine nurses, sisters, and staff at St. Elizabeth's Hospital.

In these circumstances, a double logic argues the imperative need to continue the search for peace patiently and without any deadlines. Progress has already been made and the new roles being taken on by the Constituent Assembly in Saigon, by the indigenous elements in the Viet Cong, and by the Russians in Hanoi suggest that there is more to come.

Conversely, to step up the war after our elections, as the President now threatens, would only confirm the suspicion that recent initiatives have only been a political hoax. In Communist eyes, President Johnson might be disqualified, must as President Eisenhower was in the last year of his term, as a man with whom it was useful to negotiate.

There are approximately 23,000 state employees under civil service, occupying over 1,000 different job classifications. These positions range from those requiring little or no background or education to highly professional positions such as psychiatrists, architects, engineers and other top jobs. Competition, especially in the highly skilled and technical areas from industry and the federal government, necessitates seeking new methods to provide the personnel necessary to carry out the responsibilities placed on state government by its citizens.

On the other side, it is quite clear that the Chinese, who now oppose the 1954 Geneva accords on Indochina in principle, stand out against an agreement far more strongly than the Russians, who have always stood by the Geneva accords. It is equally clear — if only from the news of a steadily increasing Soviet role in the war — that Moscow is gaining influence in Hanoi at the expense of Peking.

Still, the skepticism of the other side was inevitable. Making peace initiatives in the midst of a political campaign is bound to arouse suspicions of an electoral maneuver. It does not help to assemble in Manila what the other side regards as a clique of supplicants interested only in pushing the United States deeper into the war. Still less when the meeting is likely to provide a new platform for Premier Nguyen Cao Ky, a known foe of negotiations.

A church conference on "Parents and Children" has asked me to contribute a few lines to its symposium, since I am unable to attend in person. Knowing full well that almost all advice on child-rearing is futile, I am nevertheless tempted to suggest the following Decalog for Parents:

—Thou shalt honor no other gods but God, steadfastly refusing to make thy child a minor deity in the household.

—Thou shalt help thy child accept the variety of mankind with joy and wonder in God's creative originality; and not breed in him that terrible false pride of superiority, which stunts and twists the personality of man.

—Thou shalt be not too much a parent, allowing thy child freely to make his own mistakes, not protecting him unduly from the painful consequences of his errors.

—Thou shalt not expect nor demand love from thy child simply because thou art his parent; but thou shalt try to win his respect as a person by justice, humor and understanding.

—Thou shalt not force thy child to develop in thine own image, but assist him in becoming the best kind of person his own nature requires, for we must not judge a child by others, but only by his own potential.

—Thou shalt look daily into thine own heart and examine thy motives, for when thy motives are unpure, love curdles into possessiveness, and thy child is no longer a creature of God, but an instrument of Man's misguided vanity.

Boost for Kimberly

Two announcements in Kimberly during the past week, the decision of Mount Hope Machinery Company to locate a $100,000 manufacturing plant there and the announcement of a shopping center development by A. E. Anding Corp., are of major importance to residents of the community and the Fox Cities.

Mount Hope, a firm with plants throughout the world, is a rapidly growing concern and will provide a new industry and new jobs for the community. The shopping center will attract many people to the village and provide employment for both young and old. All taxpayers will benefit as the two will add substantially to the general tax base of the community as well as provide increased state income tax returns to supplement the village budget.

Congratulations are in order for village officials, the citizen's development committee, land developers and others who had a hand in bringing these major improvements to the village. For 50 years Kimberly has been a one-industry community, experiencing rapid residential growth, with no improvement in the business or industrial picture. Within a week this has been changed.

The move reflects the growing economy of both the village and the Fox Cities and with continued long-range planning and proper promotion, residents of the area can look forward to continued expansion and growth of Kimberly's businesses, industries and residential properties.

Brave Man in Georgia

Rep. Charles L. Weltner of Georgia has done a brave thing, but probably not an unwise thing. He has quit his race for re-election rather than support the gubernatorial candidacy of Lester G. Maddox, a segregationist and a fellow Democrat.

Weltner said, of Maddox, "Today, the one man in our state who exists as the very symbol of violence and repression is the Democratic nominee for the highest office in Georgia. His entire public career is directly contrary to my deepest convictions and beliefs."

Now in his second term in the House, Weltner has been a strong supporter of the Johnson Administration, and backed all three civil rights bills in Congress.

Maddox, the Georgia restaurateur who closed his business rather than serve Negroes, is notorious for his segregationist views.

Immediately, a decision like Weltner's is likely to have a strong reaction against any deep South politician because in the deep South segregation is still a major political issue.

But we believe that Weltner, 38, is a man young enough and wise enough to look beyond this two-year term in Congress. The face of the South is changing, and its minority voting blocs are too. And if Weltner seeks office again, his withdrawal from this race, rather than support a segregationist, will not be forgotten.

In announcing his action, Weltner said, "I hope I can sometime have the chance to serve again."

We think he will.

State Fair Opens at Janesville

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Post for Sept. 27, 1866.

JANESVILLE, Sept. 26, 1866 — Editor Post: The fair has actually begun. The next gate that sweeps from the East will bring to our ears the clash of rattling wheels and hurrying feet, and the roar of the engines, the first time the fair-ground — the centre of attraction.

The weather is beautiful, a cool breeze tempers the atmosphere which would else be sultry. One can enjoy a stroll or ride free from the annoying breeze of a hot sun.

People are arriving by the thousands, and should this delightful weather continue, the crowd will really be immense. At this early hour the grounds are thronged, and now animals are constantly adding to the scene.

The opening address was delivered at 10 a.m. by the President of the Society.

The entries, between 1,400 and 1,500, which are being constantly increased as articles of utility, stock, or additions to the decorations in the Fine Arts Hall are still brought in by scores.

It is impossible to particularize or to attempt in this brief letter a description of the articles on exhibition. A Fine Arts Hall is well filled and is a very attractive department.

The show of labor-saving machinery of all kinds is particularly good, in farming implements, especially. The show of harness and farming stock generally is good, the vegetables and fruit, although partly represented as to quantity, are excellent in quality.

The track is in good condition and the races this afternoon will doubtless prove satisfactory to lovers of "sport."

Gen. (John A.) Logan will probably speak on the fair grounds tomorrow afternoon, in which case the crowd to hear him will be immense.

All things considered, the Fair must be a complete success and the Society will reap a rich harvest pecuniarily.

Wisconsin Report
State's Civil Service System One of Oldest Of Any in Country

John Wyngaard, Madison correspondent, is on vacation and has arranged for a series of guest columns to be published during his absence. Contributors will include prominent figures in Wisconsin governmental and political affairs.

BY CARL K. WETTENGEL
MADISON — The recognition of good government in Wisconsin throughout the nation is a reflection of the caliber of employees performing their duties to the benefit of the citizens of the state.

An outstanding reputation such as this is not a happenstance. Third in the nation to establish a civil service system, Wisconsin has had the benefit of civil service since 1905 and has prided itself on the qualification standard set for public employees. Many changes have occurred in the system in the past, and the present growing complexity of government and industry are producing further changes to cope with current problems.

There are approximately 23,000 state employees under civil service, occupying over 1,000 different job classifications. These positions range from those requiring little or no background or education to highly professional positions such as psychiatrists, architects, engineers and other top jobs. Competition, especially in the highly skilled and technical areas from industry and the federal government, necessitates seeking new methods to provide the personnel necessary to carry out the responsibilities placed on state government by its citizens.

On the other side, it is quite clear that the Chinese, who now oppose the 1954 Geneva accords on Indochina in principle, stand out against an agreement far more strongly than the Russians, who have always stood by the Geneva accords. It is equally clear — if only from the news of a steadily increasing Soviet role in the war — that Moscow is gaining influence in Hanoi at the expense of Peking.

Still, the skepticism of the other side was inevitable. Making peace initiatives in the midst of a political campaign is bound to arouse suspicions of an electoral maneuver. —Thou shalt help thy child accept the variety of mankind with joy and wonder in God's creative originality; and not breed in him that terrible false pride of superiority, which stunts and twists the personality of man.

U. S. Studying Campaign to Deny VC Rivers

New Armored Craft
May Patrol Area
Of Mekong Delta

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. military leaders are considering a new sea-based campaign to deny the Viet Cong use of the river highways of South Viet Nam's Mekong Delta.

There has been no final decision, but one could result from Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara's visit to Viet Nam next week.

Planning has been under way for some time.

The river campaign would go far beyond the small-boat patrolling of delta waterways, which the U. S. Navy has long been conducting under "Operation Game Warden."

Special Units
It would involve launching special assault units, probably U. S. Army infantry, from Navy barracks ships stationed off the mouths of the delta's principal rivers.

"We want to deny use of the rivers to the Viet Cong and we hope to spread out and control the river banks," said one high-ranking officer.

Working in secrecy, the U. S. Navy is developing a new type of assault craft to carry the infantry from the barracks ships to objectives up river along the banks.

Conventional landing craft and amphibious vehicles, such as amtracs, are considered unsuited to "riverine" warfare in the swampy delta.

Armored Craft
Although the specific characteristics of the new assault boats are classified, it is understood they will be armored for protection of the crew and the infantry and may be rigged with gear to deal with mines.

The new craft will be fast — possibly as fast as 30 knots — and will be shallow in draft.

The campaign, if approved, would start out on a limited scale, using perhaps two barracks ships for bases. If it worked out as hoped, the operation would be expanded gradually to full scale.

Oil Slick Leads To Skidding, Says Safety Director

MADISON — Slick streets and highways, during and following rainy spells, often lead to a rash of skidding accidents, warns Dan F. Schutz, safety director of the Motor Vehicle Department.

"On those roads where a heavy film of oil has collected over the years, rain on the oil can make the surface as slippery as ice," Schutz added.

"Sailing along on a film of water on an oil-stained highway at high speed makes it difficult to control the front wheel movement," he pointed out.

"Control is even more difficult of the tires have worn smooth, preventing the driver from relying on the gripping of good treads to help his braking action," the safety director said.

He urged all car owners to check tires for wear, and replace them if necessary. He also recommended reduced speed to compensate for rain-slick roads.

long as Johnson was so far out in the Pacific he would visit such other friendly nations as Australia, New Zealand and South Korea. And diplomatic officials have suggested there might be even more stops.

The White House obviously was showing deference to desires of other Pacific nations to have the privilege of announcing visits from the American president. Australian newspapers today were displaying stories that Canberra expected a Johnson call.

Additional Stops

The additional stops on the swing into the Pacific are expected to be more in the nature of goodwill missions than business calls. The business will come at Manila, mainly.

Philippines President Ferdinand E. Marcos disclosed in a Honolulu speech Sept. 26 that he had invited the chiefs of state of the United States, Australia, New Zealand, South Korea, South Viet Nam and Thailand to meet with him in Manila to "review the prospects for a peaceful settlement of the conflict" in Viet Nam.

Heavy Flooding

Heavy flooding was reported in the Havana area where 18,000 persons fled their homes and water was reported waist-deep in some houses near the swollen Almendares River, which flows through the heart of the Cuban capital.

The radio said 905 persons were evacuated from Guanabo Beach, near Havana, when the Guanabo River spilled over its banks. The U.S. National Hurricane Center said Havana reported more than 12 inches of rain during a 30-hour period ended Wednesday night.

After leaving the Florida Keys Wednesday, Inez side-swiped Cuba, marking the economically-shaky Communist country's third session with the erratic storm.

Last week, Inez struck Cuba twice, flattening crops and leaving hundreds homeless.

The storm, lashing Cuba's western tip as it moved southwest to west-southwest, moved almost parallel to Cuba's north-western coastline Wednesday night. It could reach Mexico Friday.

Teachers Will Meet Despite Loss of Pay

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Union officials said they expect about 1,000 teachers, many of them facing a loss of two days' pay, to attend the Wisconsin Federation of Teachers (AFL-CIO) convention opening today at the Pliester Hotel.

Teachers from Milwaukee and about six other school districts have been told they would be docked pay for the time they missed attending the session. Other boards refusing to pay teachers were said to include Kenosha, West Bend, Two Rivers, Madison, Oshkosh and Fond du Lac.

A federation spokesman also said some boards had warned of "disciplinary action," but he did not elaborate.

Until this year the WFT convention had been held simultaneously with the Wisconsin Education Association convention. Teachers will be paid while attending the WEA convention here Nov. 3 and 4.

Proxmire Favors Foreign Aid Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., was on the winning side Wednesday as the Senate passed 52 - 22 a $2.9 billion foreign aid appropriation. Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., was not recorded as voting.

Earlier Wednesday, Proxmire and Nelson voted with the majority as the Senate adopted an amendment cutting $48 million from a military assistance appropriation.

sides as soon as possible, and simultaneously, should order their forces not to initiate new attacks, as a preliminary to a cease-fire. The cease-fire should be negotiated by the conference at the same time it tackles a political settlement on the lines of the 1954 agreements.

Political Settlement

This political settlement should provide:

— Free nationwide elections within, say, two years.

— An amnesty for all Vietnamese who took any part in the war.

— The newly elected North and South Vietnamese governments should themselves decide, without foreign interference, if, when and how reunification should take place.

4. The whole country should be neutralized, shutting its doors to foreign troops, bases and military involvement. In line with this:

— Americans and North Vietnamese should set a timetable for simultaneous military withdrawal from South Viet Nam, including the liquidation of any bases. This should be completed within, say, two years after ratification of a final settlement.

International Supervision

5. All the foregoing measures should be conducted under international supervision — and an international program should be launched to help repair the ravages of war.

6. A strengthened International Control Commission, with peacekeeping forces at its disposal, should insure respect and observance for the peace program.

Brown did not explain how he proposes to get the contenders around a peace conference table. He pledged that he will hammer away at Gromyko and others to achieve that aim. But the Soviets heretofore have declined to join the British in action to reconvene a peace parley.

The foreign secretary hit one point hard:

"There cannot be, nor should there be, a military solution to this conflict." And he went on: "Not only is a military victory unlikely but it is also undesirable and extremely dangerous (because) it could only embolden the victor and nurture the seeds of future conflicts more horrible."

Key Resolutions

The 1,250 delegates gave Brown an attentive hearing during his 40-minute survey of the big issues of world policy.

Periodically he was cheered. There were two key resolutions on Viet Nam before the conference and Brown called for their rejection.

They urged: —British pressure on the Americans "to end the war," with a halt of bombing strikes against North Viet Nam as a first step.

—British dissociation from current American policy in Viet Nam.

Brinks Robbery Mastermind Dies in Jail

BOSTON (AP) — On Jan. 17, 1969, Joseph F. McGinnis was at his liquor store, talking to a Boston police lieutenant.

Just then, on that mild and drizzly winter night, a band of disciplined men entered a three-story concrete garage on the waterfront. In 20 minutes, they hauled away $1,219,000 in cash. McGinnis was later identified by one of the gang as the mastermind of the Brink's robbery, then the biggest cash robbery in the country's history.

Ten years ago today, McGinnis and seven others were convicted of the robbery.

Wednesday night, McGinnis was found dead in his cell at the Massachusetts State Prison in nearby Walpole. Apparently of a heart attack. He was 63.

The bald, heavy-set McGinnis died without shedding light on what happened to the Brink's money. Only about $50,000 of the $1.2 million has been recovered. McGinnis and the others were found guilty and sentenced to life terms for the robbery.

after another along the ridge below the buffer zone between the two Viet Nams.

Before they fled down the north side of Hill 484, the North Vietnamese showered the Marines with grenades and automatic-weapons fire. The charging Leathernecks replied in kind and reported killing 10 North Vietnamese.

Ground action was slack elsewhere, and the American fighting men used the lull to listen to the live broadcast of the first game of the World Series.

U.S. tactical bombers flew 10 strikes against North Vietnamese positions inside the demilitarized zone Wednesday, touching off a series of secondary explosions and fires. The raids were made as it was disclosed that U.S. air attacks on the eastern end of the demilitarized zone have been halted in a 24 square mile area—about an eighth of the zone—to permit patrols of the International Control Commission to carry out inspections.

Lindsey, 55, a real estate agent was picked Wednesday by a party committee to face Republican opposition in the Nov. 8 general election.

Southwest Area Vocation District Wins Support

FENIMORE (AP) — A three-hour public hearing on a proposal to establish a vocational school in a five-county area of southwestern Wisconsin drew about 1,000 persons Wednesday, many of whom expressed support of the measure. The meeting had been called by the Wisconsin State Board of Vocational Technical and Adult Education and The Coordinating Committee for Higher Education.

Thirty-six persons testified in favor of establishing a vocational school for Grant, Iowa, Lafayette Crawford and Richland counties, while two persons disagreed. They said they favored a plan which would include the area in the proposed, enlarged Madison vocational school district.

Every Word Well-Played In War Talks

Indications, Hints,
Omissions Often as Vital as Statements

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here is a brief ABC on the talk about how to get talks started about peace in Viet Nam. So far it has produced nothing.

Still, the world tinges every time one side or the other seems to yield a bit or uses one word instead of another.

Each side has two sides in this war: The United States and its ally, South Viet Nam; North Viet Nam and its agents, the Viet Cong guerrillas, who have an organization, or mouthpiece, called the National Liberation Front.

On March 22, 1965 the NLF declared all negotiations useless unless it had a "decisive" say. The word "decisive" got a lot of attention later.

Then on April 6, 1965 North Viet Nam laid down four conditions for peace. It didn't say they had to be met before peace talks began. But it didn't say they didn't. That's caused wondering ever since.

NFL Programs
One of the points said the South Vietnamese would have to settle their problems "in accordance with the programs" of the NLF. It didn't say the NLF would have to be the "decisive" voice, but it certainly seemed to imply that.

From then till now North Viet Nam and the NLF haven't budged an inch. Any yielding after that seemed to be done by the United States.

At first this country, through Secretary of State Dean Rusk, appeared to brush aside the role of the NLF.

He said the United States was willing to hold discussions with the NLF, but it couldn't be a primary part in the negotiations.

He said, on Feb. 25, 1965 the United States would not enter negotiations until North Viet Nam gave some "indication" it was prepared to stop what it was doing. That word "indication" got a lot of attention later, too.

And on March 13, 1965 President Johnson backed up Rusk by saying North Viet Nam must halt intervention in South Viet Nam as a precondition for negotiations.

But then on April 7 he seemed — in diplomacy everything isn't what it looks like — to reverse both himself and Rusk by announcing this country was ready to enter "unconditional" discussions about peace.

But at the moment he said it he laid down a condition. He said the essential part of any discussion would be an independent South Viet Nam. What about the "decisive" voice of the NLF if it wanted all Viet Nam unified?

So it went, month after month, with neither side adding enlightenment.

Then on Sept. 22, 1966 Arthur J. Goldberg, U. S. ambassador to the United Nations, caused a lot of buzzing. He said the bombing of North Viet Nam would be stopped if Hanoi gave some "assurance" it would cut down its war-making.

Ask For Assurance
The fact that the United States was now only asking Hanoi for "assurance" rather than an "indication" it would let up a bit stirred up swarms of diplomats but not for any very intelligent reason.

Optimists fastened on the notion that the United States was softening its demands by using "assurance" instead of "indication" although if anyone but an optimist examines them they seem to mean the same.

The Communists brushed it all aside. And then North Viet Nam caused a flurry although North Viet Nam must have been surprised that it did. Again the optimists went to work.

North Viet Nam said the NLF should be a "decisive" voice in peaking for South Viet Nam. Was this a little softening in North Viet Nam's position?

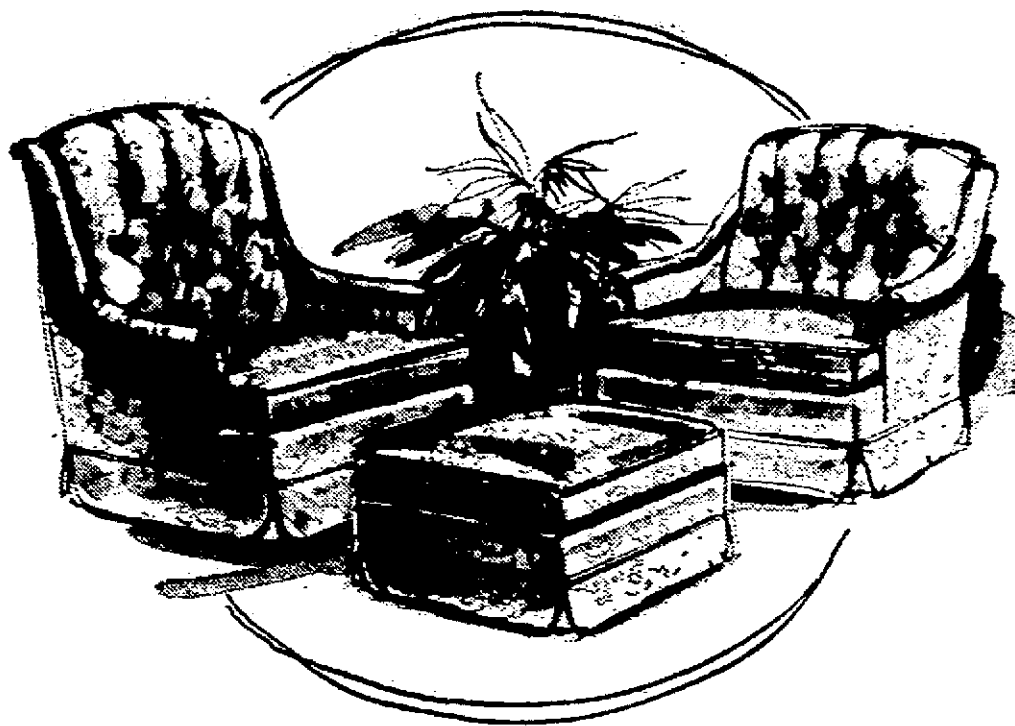

Hardly, if anyone kept a record of all this chatter on both sides for he would have remembered the NLF back on March 2, 1965, said all negotiations would be useless unless the NLF had a "decisive" say.

And that's where it stands right now, so far as the public knows.
